'DISEASE MIND' DEFENSE PLEA IN CHICAGO MURDER

DEFENSE LEADS ATTACK

Detective Queried at Length
by Defense Attorneys in Murder Case.

(By the Associated Press)

CHICAGO, July 27.—Hope for saving Nathan Leopold jr., and Richard Loeb from the gallows centered tonight on plans of counsel to demonstrate a degree of moral irresponsibility for their crime, due to "diseased minds."

"The defense will contend," said Clarence Darrow, chief attorney of the youthful slayers, "that the boys have diseased minds, and that they were not responsible for their acts. The question of legal insanity will not be brought out by the defense."

The defense has called Dr. W. J. Healy of Boston, and Dr. Benjamin Gluck of New York, two noted alienists, to testify in the case. They were added to the staff of five Chicago alienists selected by the defense to present the story of the young men's mental debility to Judge John R. Caverly, chief justice of the criminal court of Cook county, who must fix the penalty for the defendants.

Youth Is Defense Plea

One of the grounds on which the defense will make its plea for mercy will be the youth of Leopold and Loeb. Neither is 20 years of age.

Almost simultaneous with the week-end adjournment, state's attorney Robert E. Crowe, in charge of the prosecution, declared in reference to the state's plea for the death penalty:

"I think we have made out an ironclad case."

Mr. Darrow and his colleagues in the defense, Benjamin and Walter Bachrach, struck back at the testimony of a state witness today for the first time.

Mr. Darrow attacked as a falsehood a story by detective sergeant James Gortland that Leopold had said to him that he might seek to escape the death penalty by pleading guilty before "a friendly judge."

Gortland maintained the truth of his story.

It was the first time the defense had tried to break down the testimony of a state witness. It consumed virtually the entire short session of today.

CHICAGO, July 26.—An insinuation that the state's testimony which credited Nathan Leopold jr. with desiring to plead guilty before a "friendly judge" as a fabrication was put forward by Clarence S. Darrow, chief counsel for Leopold and Richard Loeb today.

It was the first time since the boys pleaded guilty to the kidnapping and murder of Franks that their counsel has challenged any material fact brought out by witnesses summoned by Robert E. Crowe for the state.

James Gortland, detective sergeant, drew the fire of the veteran counsel for defense who brought out that every conversation between policemen and Loeb had been recorded in some way either in writing or in reports, but the "friendly judge" remark had not been put down either in writing or shorthand.

The witness was asked to show his shorthand notes of the statement concerning the "friendly judge." The action of the defense counsel was in the nature of a challenge of the testimony of Gortland, who was closely examined most minute detail as the state's sixty-seventh witness before Judge Caverly quoted Leopold as having declared murder to be no crime in his code.

For considerable time the cross-examination swung upon the "friendly judge" conversation. Several times during the questioning of the witness Mr. Darrow conferred with Assistant Counsel Benjamin Bachrach, the boy defendants "listening in" on the whispered consultations.

Brings out Angle.

It was brought out that Gortland made no mention of the "friendly judge" conversation to his superiors in official reports although he had related it to Assistant State's Attorney Savage and talked about it with newspaper reporters both in Chicago and elsewhere.

"Isn't it true that this whole story of the conversation in which

Reports of Laxity of Law
Protection to Americans
Reaches U. S.

(By the Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, July 26.—State department officials prepared today to formally ask the Persian government to take immediate measures to protect American citizens in that country from attacks and insults from natives understood to be hostile against foreigners as a result of the killing of Maj. Robert Imbrie, American vice consul at Teheran and the developments following that affair.

The decision of the department to take this action followed receipt of advice from Joseph E. Kornfield, American minister, telling of insults to Mrs. Imbrie, wife of the former vice consul, for which a young Persian was said to be responsible.

According to the minister's dispatches, the Persian youth grabbed the veil worn by Mrs. Imbrie, attempting to tear it from her and at the same time expectorating upon her person. The reported outrage was said to have occurred in Teheran last Tuesday.

Mrs. Imbrie Insulted.

A native policeman reported to have been some distance away from the place where Mrs. Imbrie was attacked, and who is believed to have witnessed the affair, made no attempt to protect her or to apprehend her assailant, the dispatches said.

Mrs. Imbrie was riding with the wife of one of the officers attached to the American mission when the outrage occurred.

Several department officials had decided to await the conclusion of the investigation being made of the murder of Maj. Imbrie before taking any official action or attempting to fix the responsibility for the vice consul's death. They had received formal apologies from the Persian government with assurances that full and immediate punishment would be meted out to the participants in the crime.

Stern steps including the placing of Teheran under martial law for the protection of foreigners also had been taken by Persian authorities and their action had led the officials here to believe that safety of Americans and other volunteers had been assured.

State Commander

(An Editorial)

The greatest honor the American Legion of Oklahoma can give to a worthy war veteran, will be granted at Ada—the selection of a Department commander.

From the ranks of those who served in America's hour of need, Oklahoma will receive another leader of ex-service men, a leader of 25,000 war veterans.

No greater honor can fall from any fraternal organization within the boundaries of Oklahoma.

Six veterans, backed by legionnaires in six different sections of the state, will seek the office of state commander during the Convention at Ada.

The favored one will immediately take the cloak of responsibility that will send his name to prominence in state affairs and establish a reputation that will fare well under the storm of passing years.

Since the administration of Dudley Monk, when the very principles of the Legion of Oklahoma were challenged, the bars and Sam Brown of officialdom in the American Legion in Oklahoma has been a he-man's job with a victor's reward at the armistice of his service.

CHARGE BROTHERS WITH DEATH PACT

Brother Charges Kin With
Asphyxiating Parents
Fourteen Years Ago.

(By the Associated Press)

COATSVILLE, Pa., July 26.—Making denial of having caused the death of their parents, fourteen years ago, Benjamin Dorschheimer, of Atlantic City and Chester A. Dorschheimer of Harrisburg, Pa., are under arrest on charges preferred by their brother, Frank N. Dorschheimer, owner of an automobile paint shop at Thorndale, near here.

Benjamin was arrested when he alighted from a train here last night and Chester was taken into custody at York, Pa., where he is treasurer of a manufacturing plant. They will be given a hearing Tuesday at Gap, Pa., where the warrants for their arrest were sworn out.

The brother charges that Benjamin and Chester caused their parents' death in Manchester, Pa., fourteen years ago by gas asphyxiation. The aged couple were found dead in their bed with the gas jet turned on. Peter Dorschheimer, the father of the three men, was a liquor dealer and reputed to be wealthy. When he and his wife were found dead, Benjamin was made executor of the estate.

Asked why he had waited fourteen years to bring the murder charge against his brothers, Frank said that important witnesses had refused to talk about the case because they had been intimidated.

JUDGMENT RENDERED IN FAMOUS CREWS SUIT

(By the Associated Press)

ENID, July 26.—A total judgment for $1,026,004.33 was awarded to the six plaintiffs in the famous Crews estate case this morning by Judge J. B. Cullison, district judge, against the Sinclair Oil Co., the Garfield Oil Co., and Exchange Oil Co.

The Sinclair Co. suffered most when it was ordered to pay the heirs $1,198,801.50. From this amount a total of $225,651.38 was deducted to cover the expense of improving the lands and drilling wells. The other two companies were ordered to pay $162,845.71.

The case was filed by Mrs. Laura Crews, guardian of the minor children of James A. and Lula Crews, in September, 1922. The court was asked to declare the lease null and void, called for an accounting and awarding the plaintiffs a money judgment.

PRESIDENT ENDS CONTROVERSY ON DEFENSE REPORT

Coolidge Draws Line Between Mobilization Move and
"Defense Day."

PATRIOTIC ONLY

President's Stand Taken in Defiance to Attitude of Anti-War Crew.

(By the Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, July 26.—The proposal that the government call for the observance of September 12 as "defense day" was brought to a climax today by the declaration of President Coolidge that the proposed celebration was designed solely to remind Americans of their relation and dependence upon the nation's defense establishment.

"What is proposed for September 12 is the mere compliance with the purpose of the national defense law of 1920," the President said in a letter addressed to Fred Libbey, executive secretary of the National Council for the Prevention of War, made public today at the White House.

"It is not a mobilization and the people who first attacked it and termed it 'mobilization day' and then proceeded to condemn it have been utterly unfair."

The announcement of the government's plan for the day last April brought a protest from anti-war organizations which declared the movement was of a military nature. These declarations were denied by the war department but critics contended that the national council for prevention of war should take a strong stand against the proposal.

Recently the council proclaimed a three months campaign which started today for a world wide cooperation to stop war and has requested that the campaign be continued against "defense day." This led the President to write the letter.

Mr. Coolidge declared he was and ever had been "unequivocally sympathetic with the main purposes to make war as nearly as might be an impossibility in this world," but added that such hope and desire was not inconsistent with the program of defense day.

ADVANCE GUARD OF STATE VETERANS TREK TO ADA TO PAVE WAY FOR BIG DRIVE

Everything in Readiness for Barrage of Delegates to Sixth Annual Legion
Convention Here.

Ada opened up her arms, a triumphant city, to receive a peace time army from Oklahoma that Saturday night came pouring in by train and by automobile from all corners of the state.

Six years after the dull rumble of artillery and the ceaseless tread of hobnails quieted down to receive an endowment of peace, Oklahoma veterans were again mobilizing Saturday night but their debarkation stopped at Ada, where the Sixth Annual Oklahoma Departmental Legion convention swung into form.

Ada was dressed up Saturday in holiday rags for the celebrating doughboy, gob and leatherneck who chanced to take a jump on his Buddies back home in reaching the Convention center a night before the big guns centered the barrage on Ada.

Six years ago Buddies joy-leave reached a climax when he dumped a pack on a French cobblestone street, with a half dozen cans of "Corn Willie", hard-tack and a couple of blankets and a shaving set all scattering in different directions but Saturday night the celebrating Buddy had torn the shackles of war-time encumbrance and stepped forth on Ada's Main street in his Sunday best.

GIRL TARRIED BY WOMAN ACCUSER

Declared Girl Had Received
Attention from Her Husband.

(By the Associated Press)

FREDERICK, Md., July 26.—It was a woman who applied the coat of tar and feathers to Miss Dorothy Grandon, 20, at Martinsburg, West Virginia, near Myersville, Frederick county, Thursday night. Mrs. Lloyd Shank, wife of a farmer, admitted this fact at a hearing here last night of herself and eight men accused of participating in the affair. All were released on bail of $2,000 each for the grand jury on a technical charge of assault and battery. The victim was sent to jail in default of $500 bond as a material witness.

Those arrested were a part of about 50 men alleged to have composed a mob which participated in the tarring and feathering of the Grandon girl, who had been accused by Mrs. Shanks of receiving the attentions of her husband.

Girl Tells Story

Telling her story here last night, Miss Grandon said she and another girl had been ordered to leave the place by the sheriff and having no money she had started to walk to Martinsburg hoping to get a lift on the way.

Soon afterwards they were overtaken by three autos from one of which sprang Mrs. Shanks. After some words, Mrs. Shank struck her with a club knocking her down with the third blow. Her attackers then almost stripped her of clothing. She could smell the tar, she said, and begged them on bended knees "not to do such a thing."

Encouraged by cries from the men, Miss Grandon declared, Mrs. Shank threw buckets of tar over her and showered her with feathers. Mrs. Shank admitted in a statement to the magistrate that she struck the Grandon girl with a club, tore her clothes from her, all but a flimsy under garment. She said:

"I wanted to do the job myself. I took the tar from one of the men and poured it over her. Then I grabbed a sack of feathers and threw them on her."

PROTEST AGAINST UNION OF RAILROAD LINES IN TEXAS

(By the Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, July 26 Should the Missouri Pacific Railway be permitted to acquire control of the New Orleans, Texas and Mexico Railway of Texas, the consolidation would give it a vast amount of traffic and Benjamin F. Yoakum as owner of property along the Texas road route has petitioned the Interstate Commerce Commission to intervene and protest against the granting of the right to acquire the Texas line.

Afternoon trains contributed a half dozen auxiliary leaders, who preceded the delegations of war mothers to the Convention center to prepare for their coming. The bulk of the Auxiliary delegation is expected to arrive Sunday morning and afternoon.

Enid Legionnaires First

Enid legionnaires were the first to appear here Saturday. A number of Buddies from post 35 at Enid whipped down Main street in a Ford coupe with the post's number emblazoned for view. It is understood that Enid will make a bid for the convention honors next year.

While Ada was looking around the street corners for state warriors, the advance guard of the Chickasha delegation ascended telephone poles and advanced "Hatcher for Commander" on a huge banner extending across the street. Chickasha informed Convention officials that they were coming overland in an auto caravan that would awake the old town for fifty years. Jim Hatcher of Chickasha is being boomed by legionnaires and a delegation from the Lions Club of that city for the state commander job.

Ada awoke Saturday morning to find that toilers of the night had woven a web of decoration over the business blocks of the city and one by one the business houses responded to the cosmic urge and brought out old bunting and flags to add to the decorative appearance of the business district. Sidewalk flags were hurried into place and by noon Ada was ready to receive its visitors.

The Convention Hall, where state Buddies will tangle in friendly battle over the choice of officials for the fiscal year and over legislative changes for the organization, blossomed under the hand of the decorator. The facade of the building was almost hidden by flags and bunting and the huge flag dangled from the top of the structure to its front steps, commanding Townsend avenue.

Early Visitors Saturday

While Ada prepared Saturday for the early visitors, preparations were in store in earnest for the scheduled arrival of delegations Sunday morning and afternoon. All trains are expected to bring in representatives from the posts of the state.

A special train from Oklahoma City is scheduled to arrive at noon Sunday with the Oklahoma City post and the vulture, 40 et 8, which will jazz up Main street in a feature parade setting out the superiority of the "Box Car" contingent from the state capital.

While Sunday's contribution to a record attendance at the Convention is expected to be large, Monday's influx is expected to be even larger with distant points in the state sending in hordes with other delegations which preferred to spend Sunday at home.

In face of the apparent breaking of all Convention attendance records, members of the housing committee were battling above water to stretch the total number of homes and to assure a sleeping quarter for

WILSON SERIES TO DRAW CROWDS

Several Additions to Ada Team for Three Games With Carter Players.

Baseball fans will be permitted to review the greatest rally of their favorite sport this season, Sunday, Monday and Tuesday when the Wilson club comes here for the three days of the Oklahoma Departmental Legion convention.

The Ada Independents, one of the strongest amateur teams of the state will offer stubborn resistance to the invasion of a flock of some of the renowned independent baseball stars of this section of the state.

Manager Green, of the local tribe stated Saturday that everything is in readiness for the three games here and that an additional number of stars have been added to the Ada team to attract more attention to the games and to more successfully defend the local diamond from invasion.

Ted Blankenship, late of the White Sox team of Chicago, will be a feature attraction of the series. Blankenship, an older brother of St. Blankenship, who pleased fans here last year, is slated for the third game of the series, but will also play a field position during the other three games. Blankenship's presence greatly strengthens the lineup of the Ada team and proves a great bid for the third game of the series. Blankenship has been linked prominently in sport circles for a number of years and was considered one of the valuable members of the pitching staff of the Chicago club.

Carson, a southpaw from the Waterbury, Conn., team of the Eastern League, will perform on the mound for the second conflict with the Wilson club. Carson has been setting a swift pace in his Eastern debut and is considered no less a light in the gallery of stars to be exhibited by Green.

The opener today will be hurried by Formby, who has made good with the club since his annexation from Greenville recently. Formby passed inspection before a Pittsburg Pirate Scout recently and pleased the visitor with unusual credit. Formby's performances are well known to Ada fans and his appearance for the first game will be no surprise to the followers of Green's tactics. Other additions to the present lineup of the Ada team may be announced before the umpire tosses the horseshoe on the diamond Sunday afternoon.

While Ada will be considerably strengthened for the three-day series, the Wilson club will not come unprepared for their most important series of the season. According to reliable information received here, several of the players of the disbanded Duncan team of the Oklahoma State League will appear on the lineup under the Wilson banner, while it is understood that valuable additions have been made to the pitching staff.

The series will be a virtual rally for the Wilson delegates to the Legion convention here, the Wilson post sending their war veterans to the convention as companions for the Wilson baseball club.

Manager Green stated Saturday that he expected the series to be the most important ever witnessed on the local diamond and that record crowds would attend each game.

BABE RUTH CONTINUES HIS BREAK-NECK DRIVE IN SWAT HONORS FOR AMERICAN LOT

CHICAGO, July 26.—If anyone of Babe Ruth's rivals in the American league had any idea of overtaking the Bambino for 1924 home run honors, those particular clouters probably have had a change of heart. Hitting his 29th homer to the open spaces, Ruth today is so far in the lead that even Ken Williams of the Browns has almost given up in desperation. Williams is trailing ten homes on the wrong side of the ledger.

Ruth, although dropping five points, still is the main individual in batting, leading the procession with an average of .379, with Falk of Chicago remaining second with .365. Goslin of Washington is batting third with .356 followed by Ty Cobb of the Tigers with .346. Next in the list is Jamieson of Cleveland with .344, while Earl Sheely of the White Sox is sixth with .342. The averages include games of Wednesday.

Jacobson of St. Louis, and Harry Hillman of Detroit, 1923 batting champion, are not far away, but it is strange at this time of the year below .330. However, it must be taken into consideration that Hillman has been on the hospital list a good share of the time this season.

Capt. Eddie Collins of the White Sox has not slowed up on the bases, setting a dizzy race with twenty-six.

Other leading batters: Jacobson, St. Louis .331; Hillman, Detroit .328; Mostil, Chicago .329; Meusel, New York .328; Collins, Chicago .324; Sewall, Cleveland .322; Speaker, Cleveland .318; Myatt, Cleveland .318.

Heavy slugging by Leo Hartnett, peppery young catcher of the Chicago Cubs, is the outstanding feature among the batters of the National League. While George Kelly of the Giants was gathering six homers in a week, Hartnett collected five. As a result, Hartnett passed the Giant's slugger, and is trailing Jack Fournier of the Dodgers for the home run honors.

Hartnett's homers were made in three consecutive days, although not in consecutive games. Twice he made two in one game. His total is fifteen, which is one better than Kelly, and seven behind Fournier, who is leading with twenty-two.

There has been little variance among the batting leaders. Rogers Hornsby, the Cardinal star, is comfortably lodged in first place with .412. His nearest competitor is Zack Wheat of Brooklyn, who is hitting .380, a gain of five points over his mark a week ago. Hornsby however, gained 11 points.

Max Carey, of the Pirates, continues to make the base stealers worry with a total of twenty-four.

Other leading batters: Fournier, Dodger .352; Roush, Cincinnati .351; Snyder, New York .348; Young, New York .345; Kelly, New York .344; Grigsby, Chicago .333; Firsch, New York .330; Hartnett, Chicago .330; Meusel, New York .318.

The remarkable see-saw battle among the three leaders in the American Association continues unabated with Neun, sensational St. Paul youngster, on top of the heap, with an average of .399. Dressen, also of St. Paul, who headed the procession a week ago, is second with .398, with Brief of Kansas City clinging to third place with .387.

Earl Smith of Minneapolis is the only one of those coming up from below who is any way threatening the pace makers. He is fourth with .363.

The hitting among the home run hitters has been rather light, with Reb Russell of Columbus on top with fourteen. The two Smiths, Earl of Minneapolis and Elmer of Louisville, each added one a piece, giving them a total of thirteen.

Neun has taken enough time off his batting to add three stolen bases to his record to thirty-four.

Other leading batters: Shannon, Louisville .342; Christenbury, Indianapolis .342; Allen, Indianapolis .341; Russell, Columbus .335; Armstrong, Kansas City .333; Tyson, Louisville .332; Krueger, Indianapolis .332.

Lamb and Lelivelt of Tulsa and Miller of St. Joseph have tightened the race for batting honors in the Western League.

Lamb, although suffering a loss of three points during the past week, retained his place at the head of the ladder with .332. Lelivelt is hitting .388. Miller of St. Joseph by advancing points boosted his mark for third place to .365, one point in front of Dunning of Wichita.

Washburn, another Tulsa star, ran his run scoring mark to 111 and his home run total to twenty-seven having bagged a brace of four baggers in the past week.

Smith of Wichita stole only one base, but his .32 is still good for the lead.

Other leading batters: O'Brien, Denver .363; Cullop, Omaha .362; Washburn, Tulsa .361; Austin, Tulsa .352; Butler, Wichita .351; Davis, Tulsa .350; Robinson, Omaha .347; Glasard, Denver .344; Falk, Denver .344.

Smith of Atlanta has put himself in a class all his own in hitting among the heavy wallpapers of the Southern Association. He is setting the pace today with .392. Even Carlisle of Memphis, who came to the front after a long chase, has apparently given up hope of catching

Smith as he has been unable to get any nearer than .361, which is second place. Burrus of Atlanta, is third with .351. Guyon of Little Rock came up with a whirl, but subsided slightly, dropping into a triple tie for fourth place with Lapan, Little Rock, Paschal of Atlanta with .346.

Paschal is about the only player who has added anything to the home run industry. This clouter sent two balls to the wide open spaces in one game, which elevated his total to fourteen. Anderson of Chattanooga is still the leader, however, with sixteen.

Marriott of Mobile and Stewart of Birmingham have the race for stolen bases all to themselves, as usual. Marriott is leading with 33, while Stewart has 29.

Other leading batters: Yarran, Memphis .344; R. Williams, Mobile .341; Barber, Memphis .339; Stewart, Birmingham .337; Tucker, New Orleans .333; D. Williams, Mobile .333; Niehaus, Chattanooga .325.

The campaign will start in October and it is hoped to have the fund raised before October 1, 1925. H. H. Harmon, of Indianapolis, superintendent of field activities for the church board, will have supervision of the campaign.

PLANS ALL READY FOR LEGION HOP

Arrangements Made for Buddy's Big Dance at Local Garage.

When Buddy glides down to a peace time fox-trot, every facility will be afforded by the Ada Legionnaires in charge of the Convention Hall Monday night for his enjoyment and convenience.

The lure of Madame Jazz will be evident in full force at the Prince-Chvrolet garage on East Main street Monday night with a pandemonium of dazzling decorations to hide the rough features of the barren walls of the auto storage quarters.

A special invitation is issued to the ladies of the city and to visiting girls to attend the dance. A number of chaperones will be present to welcome the lady visitors and plenty of dancing will be afforded all who attend the Convention Ball.

Langford Shaw, who has taken charge of the Convention dance, announced that ten gallons of punch (not spiked) would be at hand to quench the thirst of pilgrimages. Buddies and 500 packages of confectionery will be distributed to add to the carnival spirit of the occasion. Delegates will receive souvenirs of Buddy overseas caps at the dance.

Shaw announced that the floor of the dance quarters is being prepared for the trend of Buddie's hobnails and that the floor will be in excellent condition for the promenade.

By another way of figuring, 126 per cent of the men of military age in Maud are members of the national guard. Federal government estimates are that one-seventh of the population of the United States are men of military age. At that rate, there are 190 men of that age in Maud, although there are 126 in the guard.

Two companies of the guard are stationed here. They are G company 179th infantry, and the 45th division military police company. G company has three officers and 69 enlisted men; the military police company two officers and 52 men. Another guard officer here is Captain R. R. Culbertson, doctor.

MAUD.—This Pottawatomie county town claims it has a larger per cent of its population in the national guard than any other Oklahoma town or city.

There are two banks, one school house and two guard armories here. Maud's population is 600, at a conservative estimate. Allowing another 100 people for good measure the total reaches 700.

Leads Local Vets

Robert S. Kerr

Now that the state veterans are descending on Ada for three days of pleasure during the Oklahoma Departmental Legion Convention, Bob Kerr, leader of the local legionnaires, may view the culmination of weeks of strenuous labor in preparing for the concentration of legionnaires at Ada.

Kerr has established an invariable record as a post commander in that capacity with the Norman Howard post of Ada. He took over the reins at a time when the post was heavily in debt and his succeeding in directing a retrenchment move to place the post on a firm financial basis.

Practically all of the commander's time during the past month has been devoted to preparation for the state convention, which is now in its initial state.

Members of the local post are booming Kerr for state commander in 1925 but the policies of the post in adhering to a strict handoff policy in the elective machine of the convention this year will be followed out, while the veterans are in Ada.

Other committees were organized with a sufficient number of local legionnaires enlisted for service dur-form Monday morning, according to Neal.

The Sulphur delegation will make the pilgrimage across the county line in a caravan of autos and take the Convention City by storm, according to Neal. The Sulphur delegation will bring a jazz band to pep things up for Buddy.

Forty inmates of the Sulphur Tu-

CHICKASHA LIONS WILL

COME TO AID HATCHER

CHICKASHA, July 26 (Special)—

The Chickasha Lions club will not hold its regular meeting next Monday, but the members are expected
to join the Chickasha caravan to
Ada to boost for Jim Hatcher, Lion
president, for state commander of the American Legion, according to
J. W. Kayser, vice-president acting
during Hatcher's absence today.

"The regular semi-monthly meeting of the club, scheduled for next Monday, will be dispensed with,"
said Mr. Kayser. "All Lions will be expected to join the Chickasha-Hat-
cher booster trip leaving here Sunday morning, spending the night
at Sulphur and continuing on to Ada Monday morning."

"Jim Hatcher is our president, he is running a mighty strong race for state commander of the Legion and
I feel that every Chickasha Lion
should be in Ada on Monday. Therefore I am taking the liberty of calling the meeting off and urge that all Chickasha Lions join to put Hatcher across."

Memorial Hall for Deceased Heroes of War

Pilgrimages veterans to the state convention here will be permitted to visit Norman Howard post's "Hall of Memory", where each martyr in the World War from Pontotoc county has a permanent niche as a tribute of respect from living buddies of the post.

Pictures and histories of World war veterans from this county have been dug up from hallowed interments with war mothers and buddies from this county and have been resurrected in the permanent art gallery dedicated by the local legion post.

While the "Hall of Memory" is as yet incomplete, each passing day sheds its gruesome narration of war and weaves a more heroic chapter in the lives of Pontotoc county's dead of war and members of the legion here hope to obtain all information possible concerning their buddies of the native soil, now transplanted in the soil of France.

Those responsible for the progress already made in collecting pictures and date concerning Pontotoc county's war dead, emphasize the importance of the work as seen by the public. They declare that much favorable opinion has been aroused over this simple debt of tribute to its comrades who did not return and progress has been more rapid because of the whole-hearted co-operation of people living in the communities where the veterans formerly lived.

CALL OF THE OPEN STILL STRONGER THAN LURE OF CITY

MENICH, Germany.—Every thirteenth inhabitant of the world lives in a city of more than 100,000 population, according to calculations made by a local statistician. There are 409 cities on this globe whose population exceeds 100,000. Of these 202 are in Europe and their average population is 300,000.

In Europe alone the proportion of persons living in large cities is even greater than for the whole world, for every seventh person on European soil lives in a city of 100,000 inhabitants or more.

We don't mean to put over any big barrage—or any violent gas attack; but we are as glad to see you as you were to see the sign on the end of the station of the old home town the day you got home from helping win the war.

It's our business to manufacture "OK" Portland Cement. In war time, thousands of barrels of our product were used in helping to "carry on" whatever project the Nation's needs required.

Now that peace again reigns,, "OK" Cement is still "carrying on" all over the Great Southwest. Mile after mile of Concrete roads to facilitate transportation; giant dams for hydro-electric power and for irrigation; manufacturing and industrial plants; towering skyscrapers in our cities; homes in countless numbers—all are built with "OK CEMENT"—and all are helping to make our home land a better place in which to live.

WOODWARD MAKES QUICK TRIP HERE

National President of Young Democrats Visits Here for Few Hours.

Guy Woodward, president of the Young Democratic clubs of the United States, was in the city Saturday on a flying visit to his parents, L. H. Woodward and wife.

Oklahoma is the pioneer state of the Union in this movement, the idea having originated at the state university some 10 or 12 years ago with Judge Orel Busby of Ada the first president.

Last spring Guy Woodward was elected president at the state convention at Sulphur. About that time it was decided to extend the scope of the organization and he was made the president with headquarters at Washington. When he took up his duties, New York was the only other state with a similar organization. Guy states that fifteen states and the District of Columbia are now in line. These are Tennessee, Kentucky, Indiana, Florida, Illinois, Texas, Arkansas, California, Massachusetts, Nebraska, and Missouri. The plans are to extend the work into all other states of the nation.

Guy attended the national convention at New York and was invited to deliver an address on the work.

As its name implies, the organization is made up of the young men and women of the party. Young Democrats from the ages of 21 to 35 are eligible to membership. The main object is to get out the full vote of the party, especially among the younger ones who may be inclined to pass up their privilege. President Woodward states that in the election of 1920 only 17 out of every 100 registered between the ages included in the membership voted. This time it is hoped to improve the record.

He stated that the national headquarters will remain in Washington and branches will be established at New York, Chicago, St. Louis and San Francisco.

No Extra Cops for Convention

No extra policemen will be drafted into service by the city for the Oklahoma Departmental Legion convention on Sunday, Monday and Tuesday.

Mayor Somer Jones stated Saturday that no special effort would be extended to curb the hilarity of the delegates to the convention but on the other hand the city would be left to the discretion of the visitors and upon their principles of behavior.

Mayor Jones, however, has been promised the aid of the local legionnaires in routing any overstepping of the city's ideals of law abiding relations.

The county department also announces that no special officers have been sworn in for the period of the convention.

Bank Commissioner Sued by Girl in Telephone Office

(By the Associated Press)
OKLAHOMA CITY, July 26.—Damages of $25,000 were sought in a court action instituted here today by Miss Jennie Barnett, telephone operator at Mustang, against O. B. Motherhead, acting state bank commissioner and J. W. Shofer of Mustang.

Miss Barnett alleged that Shofer came into her office at Mustang and accused her falsely of repeating a telephone message between Mustang and Oklahoma City. She said she lost her position as a result and charged that the accusation was a reflection on her honor.

OIL NEWS

The Lloyd well in section 6-3-7, three miles southeast of Ada, is drilling at 2086 feet. Considerable trouble has been experienced with cavings.

This company will probably, in the near future, begin the drilling of several wells, going only to the 1200-foot sand. This sand will produce around 50 barrels a day of 33 gravity oil. With pipe line facilities or even with shipping facilities like it has now, these wells should produce big wealth.

C. J. Wrightsman is underreaming at 1390 at Center, section 24-4-4.

The Goldline Company is drilling at 80 feet west of Roff, just across the line in Garvin county.

The Empire well in section 4-2-7 is drilling at 2585 feet.

Galloway and others are drilling at 955 feet in section 15-3-6, just south of town. The oil sand should be encountered around 1100 feet.

Bowles and others in section 34-5-6 are planning to run the rods and put a pump in their well. With the pumps it is making approximately 50 barrels a day. On account of the gas, they figure it will make more oil by flowing than it will by pumping. Thus the flowing process is to be tried out.

It is understood that preparations for the pipeline across the county are going forward, though nothing official has been announced by the company men. They will be back next week, at which time an announcement is expected. The company bought a 49 acre tract near Francis on which a pump station is to be installed and ten or twelve residences to be erected.

SATURDAY RALLY DAY FOR CLUBS

Most of Clubs in County are Represented at Meeting.

Saturday was rally day for the boys and girls clubs of Pontotoc county. Most of the clubs of the county were represented by one or more members, Vanoss having two buss loads. The young folks, some of them accompanied by their parents began arriving early with well filled baskets and boxes of all kinds of good things to eat and after an hour or two of getting acquainted, the crowd adjourned to the basement of the convention hall where a bountiful dinner had been spread.

After the eating was over the crowd went to the auditorium where a short program was rendered. Following this a photograph was made of the crowd which was assembled on the steps of the convention hall. The club membership of the county is about 600 and counting; the parents, the crowd attending the rally here was not less than 300.

Prof. Pratt of A. and M. college, head of the club work of the state and who during his term of service at East Central took a great deal of interest in the work of this county and did much to help organize clubs was present and took part in the program.

you said Nathan suggested that he would plead guilty before a "friendly judge" was a fabrication concocted with authorities to intimidate the court?" asked Darrow.

"It is not," Gortland declared.

After an hour of cross-examination Gortland was temporarily withdrawn from the witness stand and ordered not to converse with anyone in the court room while Jacob Weinstein, general manager of an optical establishment was called by the state to identify the glasses found near the railroad culvert which yielded Franks' body.

The sudden switching of witnesses was agreed upon by counsel as an accommodation to Mr. Weinstein who was waiting in the witness room.

Weinstein identified the glasses presented by the state as corresponding exactly to the spectacles called for on a "job envelope" and which bore the name of Nathan Leopold jr.

CARS ENLISTED IN FREE TAXI CORPS

Over Hundred Cars Listed to Conduct Veterans About Ada

Over one hundred cars have been enlisted in the Ada Transportation Corps for Service during the Oklahoma Departmental Legion Convention here today, Monday and Tuesday. Claude McLean, in charge, stated.

While this number of cars is considered a great asset toward the free taxi services to be rendered war time visitors here during the convention, McLean stated that he would not abandon his enlistment campaign but would seek to enlist every motorist in Ada in the program of entertaining state veterans.

The bulk of attention in transportation needs for the Convention will be directed toward the Auxiliary division of the conclave, more attention being directed toward motoring women to and from the Methodist church where the Auxiliary sessions will be in full swing.

Free rides from trains to the Convention Hall will be a vital cog in the transportation corps program. McLean is especially anxious that a sufficient number of cars be on hand at depots on the arrival of all trains in order that no veteran or Auxiliary delegate need walk to the Convention Hall for registration.

The Transportation Corps will also be in service during the rodeo, which will be held at the ball park. An effort will be made to secure cars for all veterans to the park for the rodeo on both days and for the baseball games during the three days of the Convention.

McLean appeals to personal interest of car owners in conducting private country drives Sunday evening for visiting delegates.

"Ask Me" Gets Vets in Hot Water Corps

Local Legionnaires wearing the button bearing the above legend have supplied all manner of information today, both useful and amusing. They have directed strangers to places of business; they were unable to locate in the Saturday shopping throng; they have been forced to express opinions on local favor of various political candidates; they have been asked about the weather, bobbed hair, who won the war, why is a cow, road conditions, where is the booze, and all manner of quizzes put to them both in fun and in earnest have been good naturedly answered to the best of their ability.

A member of the local post was strutting his button down the platform of a local railway station when he was accosted by an old gentleman. The conversation was as follows:

"I see you live here."
"Yes."
"Know many people?"
"Quite a few."
"Know a feller by th' name uv Lem Haskins?"
"No, I don't believe I do."
"Well, yer button says, 'ask me, I know' an' you say you don't know him."

"I'm sorry, sir, but I don't know the gentleman you seek."

"Funny thing you'd be wearin' a button with that on it."

"What does Mr. Haskins look like? Maybe I could recognize him from your description."

"I don't know him neither; never seen him in my life; never heard uv him till a few minutes ago. They wuz a woman an' two little children got off uv th' train there that's come 't see him an' they is th' ones that wants him. When I seen your button I wuz sure you could find him fer 'em."

BUDDY INVITED TO USE GOLF STICK BY CLUB

Legionnaires whose hands itch to get hold of a golf stick while attending the state convention will be extended the privileges of the course of the Ada Golf and Country Club, according to an announcement last night by officers of the club.

Par on the local course is 34 and any visitor making the course in par will be awarded the croix de Guerre with a whole orchard of palms, as local golfers have never been able to turn in a card bearing the mythical perfect score.

Mother nature is the architect of the local course, and golfers who know say that it is one of the most difficult in the state. All the hazards are natural, and the path from tee to green is indeed straight and narrow. The golfer that does not find himself in trouble at some time on the round is indeed in championship class.

War Clouds

By Herts Vobson, correspondent from the Ada Sector.

G. H. Q. — OKLAHOMA CITY — The staff of the Oklahoma personnel left the local dugout with ample rations for the concentration on the Ada sector, taking all the division dope with them for an extended stay in the Ada sector.

SULPHUR TRENCHES — The Chickasha contingent opened "can ned Willie" and Salmon here while on the march to the Ada sector, where they have been promised solid rations of beans, soda water and strong drink. Lowly privates shed their undies for cootie inspection but to the surprise of the inspecting officers, "Hatcher for Commander" flees were found in abundance but were permitted to continue scratching owing to their native breed.

HUGO LINES — The Choctaw county corn club, shock troops from the lofty peaks of the Kiamichi, were reported on move to the Ada sector heavily armed. Canteen inspection revealed that all were well filled with finest from the Kiamichi hills.

ARMORE WAR ZONE — A private in the Ardmore troop caused a near mutiny among local forces when he sought exemption from active duty in the drive on Ada. Although he pleaded that his mother-in-law has passed beyond, officers in charge refused to take him seriously.

PAWHUSKA FRONTIER — Boarding a special train of side-door pullmans while the folks at home cheered 'em on with the post anthem, "O say come to the Osage," veterans from this sector started for Ada. Officers in charge have been requested to the G. H. Q. at Ada for further information on the report about a "spring in every cellar." General Nuisance of this sector was quoted as believing the reference to concern drinking facilities at the Pawhuska frontier.

SHRINERS PLANNING BIG PICNIC SOON

Celebration to Mark Opening of Campaign to Secure Temple.

Members of the Pontotoc County Shrine Club will revel in a picnic and barbecue early next month, according to present plans of the club.

Every Shriner in Pontotoc county is invited to attend and to bring his wife to the initial escapade of their fiscal year.

According to present plans, the event will be one of momentous proportions and will include a day of solid pleasure for those who attend.

The picnic and barbecue is intended as an early opener for plans of sending a delegation to Los Angeles to again petition for the designation of a Shrine temple at Ada. Proceeds of the entertainment next month will go toward boosting the claim of Ada for a temple.

The following committee was named at a meeting Friday night for the Shrine picnic: Arrangements — H. B. Wilenzick, Harry Scheinberg, Claude Fisher, Claude McLean.

Eats — A. W. Parker, Allen Stanfield, Joe Cole, Jim Couch, Mrs. M. F. Manville, who will head the wives of the Shriners in the preparations.

At the meeting Friday night a resolution presented by C. V. Goring and sanctioned by the club extended a vote of thanks and confidence to A. W. Parker for his valuable services in working for the Ada Temple. Parker was specifically mentioned in the resolution as being the most valuable Shriner in laboring for the temple and help in boosting Ada.

LEWIS AND ARCHIE COOPER NOW READY

Headliners for Legion Battle Waiting for Gong Wednesday Night.

A full program of headliner fights will be staged for the satisfaction of state veterans who attend the Oklahoma Departmental Legion Convention, according to present plans of promoters of the fight card for Monday night at the Convention Hall.

Archie Cooper, Oklahoma middleweight, has been limbering to a merry pace during the past week and is now in tip-top shape for his entrance into the ring to oppose Red Lewis of Wichita Falls.

Cooper's training era practically closed Saturday afternoon when he worked out before a large gathering of fans. Cooper has been hitting the paces for the past week and his increase in agility and speed is considered nothing less of marvelous to those who have watched him before he stepped into the Oklahoma City arena.

Despite Cooper's favorable exhibitions, Red Lewis, the Wichita Falls slugger, surprised fans with his speed and tremendous punching ability. Lewis has been working out since his arrival here early in the week.

Sponsors of the legion bout declare that ticket sales have surpassed all previous records; requests for ringside reservations coming in from parts of this section of the state. Durant, Wapanucka, Holdenville, Sulphur and other towns in this section of the state are represented.

Besides the ringside, reservations will be made for the first rows of the balcony, which are considered reliable locations, especially for ladies who expect to attend the match.

A competent list of preliminaries has been secured to precede the opening bout between Cooper and Lewis, which will last ten rounds. The following preliminaries have been announced: Roy Young vs. Speedy Williams, four rounds; R.T. Shirley vs. Leiber Streeter, four rounds; Rufus Norris vs. Pittman Scotts (colored), four rounds; Claude Sparks vs. Dutch Stone, four rounds.

A three round feature boxing match between Duc and Bill, trained game chickens will be staged on the night of the fight.

'DISEASE MIND' DEFENSE PLEA IN CHICAGO MURDER

Darrow Maintains Lads Acted in State of Irresponsibility in Murder.

DEFENSE LEADS ATTACK

Detective Queried at Length
by Defense Attorneys in Murder Case.

(By the Associated Press)
CHICAGO, July 27.—Hope for saving Nathan Leopold Jr. and Richard Loeb from the gallows centered tonight on plans of counsel to demonstrate a degree of moral irresponsibility for their crime, due to "diseased minds."
"The defense will contend," said Clarence Darrow, chief attorney of the youthful slayers, "that the boys have diseased minds, and that they were not responsible for their acts. The question of legal insanity will not be brought out by the defense."
The defense has called Dr. W. J. Healy of Boston, and Dr. Benjamin Gluck of New York, two noted alienists, to testify in the case. They were added to the staff of five Chicago alienists selected by the defense to present the story of the young men's mental debility to Judge John R. Caverly, chief justice of the criminal court of Cook county, who must fix the penalty for the defendants.

Youth is Defense Plea
One of the grounds on which the defense will make its plea for mercy will be the youth of Leopold and Loeb. Neither is 20 years of age.
Almost simultaneously with the week-end adjournment, state's attorney Robert E. Crowe, in charge of the prosecution, declared in reference to the state's plea for the death penalty:
"I think we have made out an ironclad case."
Mr. Darrow and his colleagues in the defense, Benjamin and Walter Bachrach, struck back at the testimony of a state witness today for the first time.
Mr. Darrow attacked as a falsehood a story by detective sergeant James Gortland, that Leopold had said to him that he might seek to "escape the death penalty by pleading guilty before a 'friendly judge'."

Gortland maintained the truth of his story.
It was the first time the defense had tried to break down the testimony of a state witness. It consumed virtually the entire short session of today.

CHICAGO, July 26.—An insinuation that the state's testimony which credited Nathan Leopold Jr. with desiring to plead guilty before a "friendly judge" as a fabrication was put forward by Clarence S. Darrow, chief counsel for Leopold and Richard Loeb today.

It was the first time since the boys pleaded guilty to the kidnapping and murder of Franks that their counsel has challenged any material fact brought out by witnesses summoned by Robert E. Crowe for the state.

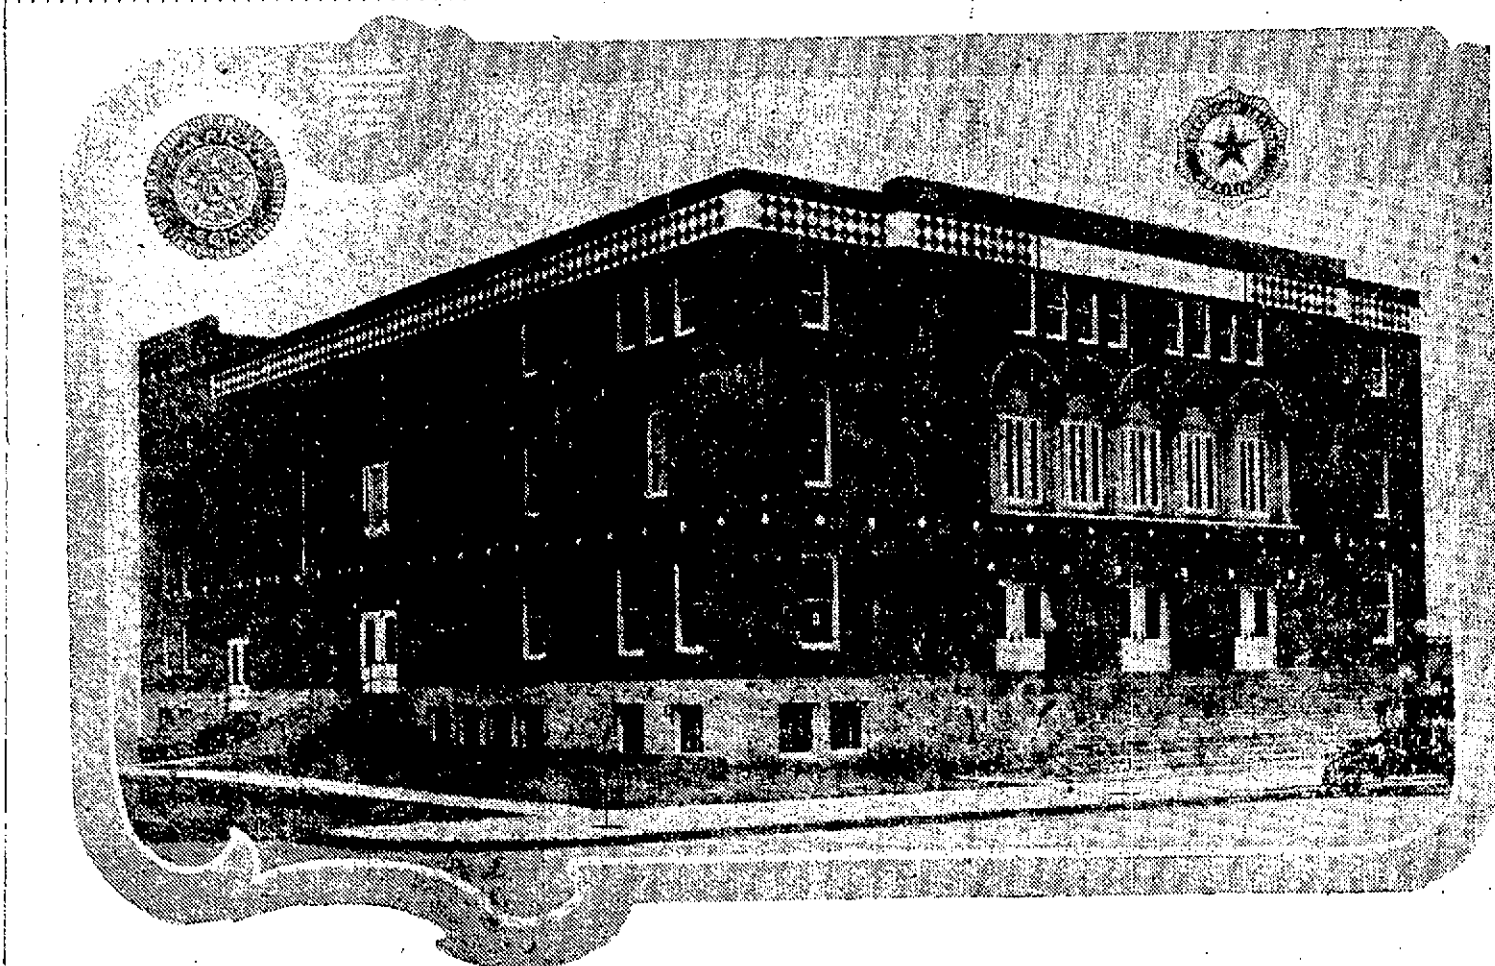

James Gortland, detective sergeant, drew the fire of the veteran counsel for defense who brought out that every conversation between policemen and Loeb had been recorded in some way either in writing or in reports, but the "friendly judge" remark had not been put down either in writing or shorthand.

The witness was asked to show his shorthand notes of the statement concerning the "friendly judge." The action of the defense counsel was in the nature of a challenge of the testimony of Gortland who was closely examined concerning every statement to the most minute detail. It was Gortland, who yesterday as the state's sixty-seventh witness before Judge Caverly declared Leopold as having declared murder to be no crime in his code.

For considerable time the cross-examination swung upon the "friendly judge" conversation. Several times during the questioning of the witness Mr. Darrow conferred with Assistant Counsel Benjamin Bachrach, the boy defendants "listening in" on the whispered consultations.

PERSIA SUBJECT OF CURT DEMAND FOR PROTECTION

Insult to Wife of Slain Vice-

Reports of Laxity of Law
Protection to Americans
Reaches U. S.

(By the Associated Press)
WASHINGTON, July 26.—State department officials prepared today to formally ask the Persian government to take immediate measures to protect American citizens in that country from attacks and insults from natives understood to be hostile against foreigners as a result of the killing of Maj. Robert Imbrie, American vice consul at Teheran and the developments following that affair.

The decision of the department to take this action followed receipt of advice from Joseph F. Kornfield, American minister, telling of insults to Mrs. Imbrie, wife of the former vice consul, for which a young Persian was said to be responsible.

According to the minister's dispatches, the Persian youth grabbed the veil worn by Mrs. Imbrie, attempting to tear it from her and at the same time exhorting upon her person. The reported outrage was said to have occurred in Teheran last Tuesday.

Mrs. Imbrie Insulted
A native policeman reported to have been some distance away from the place where Mrs. Imbrie was attacked, and who is believed to have witnessed the affair, made no attempt to protect her or to apprehend her assailant, the dispatches said.

Mrs. Imbrie was riding with the wife of one of the officers attached to the American mission when the outrage occurred.

Several department officials had decided to await the conclusion of the investigation being made of the murder of Maj. Imbrie before taking any official action or attempting to fix the responsibility for the vice consul's death. They had received formal apologies from the Persian government with assurances that full and immediate punishment would be meted out to the participants in the crime.

Stern steps including the placing of Teheran under martial law for the protection of foreigners also had been taken by Persian authorities and their action had led the officials here to believe that safety of Americans and other volunteers had been assured.

State Commander

(An Editorial)

The greatest honor the American Legion of Oklahoma can give to a worthy war veteran, will be granted at Ada—the selection of a Department commander.

From the ranks of those who served in America's hour of need, Oklahoma will receive another leader of ex-service men, a leader of 25,000 war veterans.

No greater honor can fall from any fraternal organization within the boundaries of Oklahoma.

Six veterans, backed by legionnaires in six different sections of the state, will seek the office of state commander during the Convention at Ada.

The favored one will immediately take the cloak of responsibility that will send his name to prominence in state affairs and establish a reputation that will fare well under the storm of passing years.

Since the administration of Dudley Monk, when the very principles of the Legion of Oklahoma were challenged, the bars and Sam Brown of officialdom in the American Legion in Oklahoma has been a he-man's job with a victor's reward at the amicitie of his service.

CHARGE BROTHERS WITH DEATH PACT

Brother Charges Kin With
Asphyxiating Parents
Fourteen Years Ago.

(By the Associated Press)
COATSVILLE, Pa., July 26.—Maiden denial of having caused the death of their parents, fourteen years ago, Benjamin Dorschheimer, of Atlantic City and Chester A. Dorschheimer, of Harrisburg, Pa., are under arrest on charges preferred by their brother, Frank N. Dorschheimer, owner of an automobile paint shop at Thornhurst, near here.

Benjamin was arrested when he alighted from a train here last night and Chester was taken into custody at York, Pa., where he is treasurer of a manufacturing plant. They will be given a hearing Tuesday at Gap, Pa., where the warrants for their arrest were sworn out.

The brother charges that Benjamin and Chester caused their parents' death in Manchester, Pa., fourteen years ago by gas asphyxiation. The aged couple were found dead in their bed with the gas jet turned on. Peter Dorschheimer, the father of the three men, was a liquor dealer and reputed to be wealthy.

When he and his wife were found dead, Benjamin was made executor of the estate.
Asked why he had waited fourteen years to bring the murder charge against his brothers, Frank said that important witnesses had refused to talk about the case because they had been intimidated.

JUDGMENT RENDERED IN FAMOUS CREWS SUIT

(By the Associated Press)
ENID, July 26.—A total judgment for $1,026,004.33 was awarded to the six plaintiffs in the famous Crews estate case this morning by Judge J. B. Cullison, district judge, against the Sinclair Oil Co., the Garfield Oil Co., and Exchange Oil Co.

The Sinclair Co. suffered most when it was ordered to pay the heirs $1,198,801.50. From this amount a total of $225,651.98 was deducted to cover the expense of improving the lands and drilling wells. The other two companies were ordered to pay $162,845.71.

The case was filed by Mrs. Laura Crews, guardian of the minor children of James A. and Lula Crews, in September, 1922. The court was asked to declare the lease null and void, called for an accounting and awarding the plaintiffs a money judgment.

(By the Associated Press)
WASHINGTON, July 25.—The proposal that the government call for the observance of September 12 as "defense day" was brought to a climax today by the declaration of President Coolidge that the proposed celebration was designed solely to remind Americans of their relation and dependence upon the nation's defense establishment.

"What is proposed for September 12 is the mere compliance with the purpose of the national defense law of 1920," the President said in a letter addressed to Fred Libbey, executive secretary of the National Council for the Prevention of War, made public today at the White House.

"It is not a mobilization and the people who first attacked it and termed it 'mobilization day' and then proceeded to condemn it have been utterly unfair."

The announcement of the government's plan for the day last April brought a protest from anti-war organizations which declared the movement was of a military nature. These declarations were denied by the war department but critics contended that the national council for prevention of war should take a strong stand against the proposal.

Recently the council proclaimed a three months campaign which started today for a world wide cooperation to stop war and has requested that the campaign be continued against "defense day." This led the President to write the letter.

Mr. Coolidge declared he was and ever had been "unequivocally sympathetic with the main purposes to make war as nearly as might be an impossibility in this world," but added that such hope and desire was not inconsistent with the program of defense day.

ADVANCE GUARD OF STATE VETERANS TREK TO ADA TO PAVE WAY FOR BIG DRIVE

Everything in Readiness for Barrage of Delegates to Sixth Annual Legion
Convention Here.

Ada opened up her arms, a triumphant city, to receive a peace time army from Oklahoma that Saturday night came pouring in by train and by automobile from all corners of the state.

Six years after the dull rumble of artillery and the ceaseless tread of hobnails quieted down to receive an endowment of peace, Oklahoma veterans were again mobilizing Saturday night but their debarkation stopped at Ada, where the Sixth Annual Oklahoma Departmental Legion convention swung into form.

Ada was dressed up Saturday in holiday rags for the celebrating doughboy, gob and leatherneck who chanced to take a jump on his Buddies back home in reaching the Convention center a night before the big guns centered the barrage on Ada.

Six years ago Buddies joy-leave reached a climax when he dumped a pack on a French cobblestone street, with a half dozen cans of "Corn Willie", hard-tack and a couple of blankets and a shaving set all scattering in different directions but Saturday night the celebrating Buddy had torn the shackles of war-time encumbrance and stepped forth on Ada's Main street in his Sunday best.

GIRL TARR BY WOMAN ACCUSER

Declared Girl Had Received
Attention from Her Husband.

(By the Associated Press)
FREDERICK, Md., July 26.—It was a woman who applied the coat of tar and feathers to Miss Dorothy Grandon, 20, at Martinsburg, West Virginia, near Myersville, Frederick county, Thursday night. Mrs. Lloyd Shank, wife of a farmer, admitted this fact at a hearing here last night of herself and eight men accused of participating in the affair. All were released on bail of $2,000 each for the grand jury on a technical charge of assault and battery. The victim was sent to jail in default of $500 bond as a material witness.

Those arrested were a part of about 50 men alleged to have composed a mob which participated in the tarring and feathering of the Grandon girl, who had been accused by Mrs. Shanks of receiving the attentions of her husband.

Girl Tells Story
Telling her story here last night, Miss Grandon said she and another girl had been ordered to leave the place by the sheriff and having no money she had started to walk to Martinsburg hoping to get a lift on the way.

Soon afterwards they were overtaken by three autos from one of which sprang Mrs. Shanks. After some words, Mrs. Shank struck her with a club, knocking her down with the third blow. Her attackers then almost stripped her of clothing. She could smell the tar, she said, and begged them on bended knees "not to do such a thing."

Encouraged by cries from the men, Miss Grandon declared, Mrs. Shank threw buckets of tar over her and showered her with feathers. Mrs. Shank admitted in a statement to the magistrate that she struck the Grandon girl with a club, tore her clothes from her, all but a flimsy, under garment. She said:

"I wanted to do the job myself. I took the tar from one of the men and poured it over her. Then I grabbed a sack of feathers and threw them on her."

PROTEST AGAINST UNION OF RAILROAD LINES IN TEXAS

(By the Associated Press)
WASHINGTON, July 26.—Should the Missouri Pacific Railway be permitted to acquire control of the New Orleans, Texas and Mexico Railway of Texas, the consolidation would give it a vast amount of traffic and Benjamin F. Yoakum as owner of property along the Texas road route has petitioned the Interstate Commerce Commission to intervene and protest against the granting of the right to acquire the Texas line.

Afternoon trains contributed a half dozen auxiliary leaders, who preceded the delegations of war mothers to the Convention center to prepare for their coming. The bulk of the Auxiliary delegation is expected to arrive Sunday morning and afternoon.

Enid Legionnaires First
Enid legionnaires were the first to appear here Saturday. A number of Buddies from post 35 at Enid whipped down Main street in a Ford coupe with the post's number emblazoned for view. It is understood that Enid will make a bid for the convention honors next year.

While Ada was looking around the street corners for state warriors, the advance guard of the Chickasha delegation ascended telephone poles and advanced "Hatcher for Commander" on a huge banner extending across the street. Chickasha informed Convention officials that they were coming overland in an auto caravan that would awake the old town for fifty years. Jim Hatcher of Chickasha is being boomed by legionnaires and a delegation from the Lions Club of that city for the state command job.

Ada awoke Saturday morning to find that toilers of the night had woven a web of decoration over the business blocks of the city and one by one the business houses responded to the cosmic urge and brought out old bunting and flags to add to the decorative appearance of the business district. Sidewalk flags were hurried into place and by noon Ada was ready to receive its visitors.

The Convention Hall, where state Buddies will tangle in friendly battle over the choice of officials for the fiscal year and over legislative changes for the organization, blossomed under the hand of the decorator. The facade of the building was almost hidden by flags and bunting and the huge flag dangled from the top of the structure to its front steps, commanding Townsend avenue.

Early Visitors Saturday
While Ada prepared Saturday for the early visitors, preparations were in store in earnest for the scheduled arrival of delegations Sunday morning and afternoon. All trains are expected to bring in representatives from the posts of the state.

A special train from Oklahoma City is scheduled to arrive at noon Sunday with the Oklahoma City post and the volunteers, 40 et 8, which will jazz up Main street in a feature parade setting out the superiority of the "Box Car" contingent from the state capital.

While Sunday's contribution to a record attendance at the Convention is expected to be large, Monday's influx is expected to be even larger with distant points in the state sending in hordes with other delegations which preferred to spend Sunday at home.

In face of the apparent-breaking of all Convention attendance records, members of the housing committee were battling above water to stretch the total number of homes and to assure a sleeping quarter for

WILSON SERIES TO DRAW CROWDS

Several Additions to Ada Team for Three Games With Carter Players.

Baseball fans will be permitted to review the greatest rally of their favorite sport this season, Sunday, Monday and Tuesday when the Wilson club comes here for the three days of the Oklahoma Departmental Legion convention.

The Ada Independents, one of the strongest amateur teams of the state will offer stubborn resistance to the invasion of a flock of some of the renowned independent baseball stars of this section of the state.

Manager Green, of the local tribe stated Saturday that everything is in readiness for the three games here and that an additional number of stars have been added to the Ada team to attract more attention to the games and to more successfully defend the local diamond from invasion.

Ted Blankenship, late of the White Sox team of Chicago, will be a feature attraction of the series. Blankenship, an older brother of St. Blankenship, who played fans here last year, is slated for the third game of the series, but will also play a field position during the other three games. Blankenship's presence greatly strengthens the lineup of the Ada team and proves a great bid for the third game of the series. Blankenship has been linked prominently in sport circles for a number of years and was considered one of the valuable members of the pitching staff of the Chicago club.

Carlson, a southpaw from the Waterbury, Conn. team of the Eastern League, will perform on the mound for the second conflict with the Wilson club. Carlson has been setting a swift pace in his Eastern debut and is considered no longer light in the category of stars to be exhibited by Green.

The opener today will be handled by Formby, who has made good with the club since his expectation from Greenville recently. Formby passed inspection before a Pittsburg Pirate scout recently and played the visitor with unusual credit. Formby's performances are well known to Ada fans and his appearance for the first game will be no surprise to the followers of Green's tactics.

Other additions to the present lineup of the Ada team may be announced before the umpire tosses the horseshoe on the diamond Sunday afternoon.

While Ada will be considerably strengthened for the three-day series, the Wilson club will not come unprepared for their most important series of the season. According to reliable information received here, several of the players of the Oklahoma State League will appear on the lineup.

It is understood that valuable additions have been made to the roster.

The series will be a virtual rally for the Wilson delegates to the convention here, the Wilson post graduates their war veterans to the convention as companions for the Wilson baseball club.

Manager Green stated Saturday that he expected the series to be the most important ever witnessed on the local diamond and that record crowds would attend each game.

BABE RUTH CONTINUES HIS BREAK-NECK DRIVE IN SWAT HONORS FOR AMERICAN LOT

CHICAGO, July 26.—If anyone of Babe Ruth's rivals in the American league had any idea of overtaking the Bambino for 1924 home run honors, those particular clouters probably have had a change of heart. Hitting his 23th homer to the open spaces, Ruth today is so far in the lead that even Ken Williams of the Browns has almost given up in desperation. Williams is trailing ten homes on the wrong side of the ledger.

Ruth, although dropping five points, still is the main individual in batting, leading the procession with an average of .379, with Fark for Chicago remaining second with .363. Goslin of Washington is batting third with .356 followed by Ty Cobb of the Tigers with .346. Next in the list is Jameson of Cleveland with .344, while Earl Staley of the White Sox is sixth with .312. The averages include games of Wednesday.

Jacobson of St. Louis, and Harry McManis of Detroit, 1923 batting champions, are not far away, but it is strange to record McManis's percentage at this time of the year below .330. However, it must be taken into consideration that McManis has been on the hospital list a good share of the time this season.

Capt. Eddie Collins of the White Sox has not showed up on the bases, setting a dizzy race with twenty-six.

Other leading batters: Jacobson, St. Louis, .321; Hellmuth, Detroit, .320; Mossh, Chicago, .320; Meusel, New York, .323; Collins, Chicago, .324; Sewall, Cleveland, .322; Speaker, Cleveland, .313; Myatt, Cleveland, .318.

Heavy standing by Leo Hartnett, popper young catcher of the California club, is one outstanding feature among the battery of the National League. White George Kelly of the Giants was gathering six home runs a week. Hartnett collected five, as a result, Hartnett passed the grand slinger and is trailing Jack Fournier of the Dodgers for the home run honors.

Hartnett's homers were made in three consecutive days, although not in consecutive runs. Twice he made two in one game. His total is 11, which is one better than Kelly, and seven behind Fournier, who is leading with twenty-two.

Green, has been little variance among the batting leaders. Rogers Hornsby, the Cardinal, is coming slightly behind in first place with .342. His nearest competitor is Zack Wheat of Brooklyn who is hitting .330, a half of five points over his rival. A week ago Hornsby however, carried 11 points.

Max Carey, of the Braves, continues to make the base stealers worry with a total of twenty-four.

Other leading batters: Fournier, Dodger, .352; Roush, Cincinnati, .351; Snyder, New York, .345; Youns, New York, .346; Kelly, New York, .344; Grigsby, Chicago, .333; Misch, New York, .330; Hartnett, Chicago, .330; Meusel, New York, .318.

The remarkable see-saw battle among the three leaders in the American Association continues unabated with Neun, sensational St. Paul youngster, on top of the heap, with an average of .359. Dressen, also of St. Paul, who headed the procession a week ago, is second with .353, with Dyer of Kansas City clinging to third place with .357.

Earl Smith of Minneapolis is the only one of those coming up from below who is any way threatening the pace makers. He is fourth with .325.

The hitting among the home run batters has been rather light, with Reb Russell of Columbus on top with fourteen. The two Smiths, Earl of Minneapolis and Elmer of Louisville, each added one a piece, giving them a total of thirteen.

Scout has taken enough time off his batting to add three stolen bases to his record to thirty-four.

Other leading batters: Shannon, Louisville, .342; Christenbury, Indianapolis, .342; Allen, Indianapolis, .341; Russell, Columbus, .335; Armstrong, Kansas City, .333; Tyson, Louisville, .332; Krueger, Indianapolis, .332.

Lamb and Lelivelt of Tulsa and Miller of St. Joseph have tightened the race for batting honors in the Western League.

Lamb, although suffering a loss of three points during the past week, retained his place at the head of the ladder with .382. Lelivelt is hitting .388. Miller of St. Joseph is advancing points, boosted his mark for third place to .365, one point in front of Dunning of Wichita.

Washburn, another Tulsa star, ran his run scoring mark to 111 and his home run total to twenty-seven having bagged a brace of four baggers in the past week.

Smith of Wichita stole only one base, but his .32 is still good for the lead.

Other leading batters: O'Brien, Denver, .363; Cullop, Omaha, .362; Washburn, Tulsa, .357; Austin, Tulsa, .352; Butler, Wichita, .351; Davis, Tulsa, .350; Robinson, Omaha, .347; Ginsburg, Denver, .344; Falk, Denver, .344.

Smith of Atlanta has put himself in a class all his own in hitting among the heavy wallpapers of the Southern Association. He is setting the pace today with .392. Even Carter, the pac, today, who came to the top after a long chase, has apparently given up hope of catching

Smith as he has been unable to get any nearer than .361, which is second place. Burrus of Atlanta, is third with .351. Guyon of Little Rock came up with a whirl, but subsided slightly, dropping into a triple tie for fourth place with Lapan, Little Rock, Paschal of Atlanta with .346.

Paschal is about the only player who has added anything to the home run industry. This clouter sent two balls to the wide open spaces in one game, which elevated his total to fourteen. Anderson of Chattanooga is still the leader, however, with sixteen.

Marriott of Mobile and Stewart of Birmingham have the race for stolen bases all to themselves, as usual. Marriott is leading with 33, while Stewart has 29.

Other leading batters: Yarnum, Memphis, .344; R. Williams, Mobile, .341; Barber, Memphis, .339; Stewart, Birmingham, .337; Tucker, New Orleans, .333; D. Williams, Mobile, .333; Njehaus, Chattanooga, .325.

PHILLIPS UNIVERSITY ENDOWMENT CAMPAIGN

AND, July 26 (Special).—Two representatives from the National Educational board of the Christian Church will be in Ada soon to open headquarters and start promotion work in the interest of the $1,000,000 endowment fund of Phillips University, Dr. I. N. McCash, president of the institution, said.

The campaign will start in October and it is hoped to have the fund raised before October 1, 1925. H. H. Harmon, of Indianapolis, superintendent of field activities for the church board, will have supervision of the campaign.

PLANS ALL READY FOR LEGION HOP

Arrangements Made for Buddy's Big Dance at Local Garage.

When Buddy glides down to a peace time fox-trot, every facility will be afforded by the Ada Legionnaires in charge of the Convention Hall Monday night for his enjoyment and convenience.

The lure of Madame Jazz will be evident in full force at the Prince-Cherolier garage on East Main street Monday night with a pandemonium of dazzling decorations to hide the rough features of the barren walls of the auto storage quarters.

A special invitation is issued to the ladies of the city and to visiting girls to attend the dance. A number of chaperones will be present to welcome the lady visitors and plenty of dancing will be afforded all who attend the Convention Hall.

Langford Shaw, who has taken charge of the Convention dance, announced that ten gallons of punch (not spiked) would be at hand to quench the thirst of pilgrimages Buddies and 500 packages of confection and serpentine will be distributed to add to the carnival spirit of the occasion. Delegates will receive souvenirs of Buddy overseas caps at the dance.

Shaw announced that the floor of the dance quarters is being prepared for the trend of Buddie's hobnails and that the floor will be in excellent condition for the promenade.

You Know What It Cost

Almost six years have elapsed since you came back from Flanders Fields with your flags bearing the garlands of a just VICTORY. This date, six year ago, you were in the trenches, on the march to the front, on ships between your native land and France, or in the training camps preparing for your part in the great World War.

Now that Peace is come! the Victory won! You are again fighting your country's battles in the performance of your daily tasks. You are still marching to the front; the pack across your shoulders is that of CITIZENSHIP. And you are performing that duty just as efficiently as you did when you took your orders from the "Top."

TEN MINERS KILLED IN SHAFT EXPLOSION

GATES, Penn., July 26.—The death last night when an explosion wrecked a section of the Gates mine of the H. C. Frick Coke Co., were brought to the surface shortly after dawn today. Seventy-five miners were at work when the blast came and a check of the company's list showed that 65 reached safety.

Coroner S. A. Baltz, who arrived at the mine shortly after the report of the explosion reached him, throughout the night and was prepared today to order an inquest. State mine inspectors aided him in the investigation.

Twenty-seven children were left fatherless as a consequence of the explosion while nine women lost their husbands. One of the victims was a widow.

IMPORTANT COGS IN ADA CONVENTION

To Welcome Women

MRS. SAM A. MCKEEL,
President of the Ada Auxiliary Unit

The responsibility of the entertainment of the delegates to the Fourth Annual Convention of the American Legion Auxiliary has descended on the shoulders of Mrs. Sam A. McKeel, wife of the chairman of the entertainment committee of the Legion. While the president of the Ada unit has been fortunate in having the loyalty of members of the Ada unit, her guiding hand is in the main responsible for the elaborate plans for the entertainment for visiting Auxiliary members.

GROUP OF WORKERS

in conjunction with the meeting of the American Legion of Oklahoma. All of the ladies hold important offices in the convention committee personnel.

Transportation

Banquet

Mrs. Roy Meeks

While Mrs. Meeks' work will be considerably relieved through the plans of the Legion Transportation chairman in securing cars for visiting delegates, she will have a valuable part to play in assisting and seeing that women have means of transportation to and from the convention center.

Mrs. Paul Young

The proposed elaborate banquet for the visiting delegates to the Auxiliary will be in the hands of Mrs. Paul Young. She will have complete jurisdiction over the banquet rooms.

Maud Has 126 Guardsmen and 700 Population

MAUD.—This Pottawatomie county town claims it has a larger percent of its population in the national guard than any other Oklahoma town or city.

There are two banks, one school house and two guard armories here. Maud's population is 600, at a conservative estimate. Allowing another 100 people for good measure the total reaches 700.

By another way of figuring, 126 per cent of the men of military age in Maud are members of the national guard. Federal government estimates are that one-seventh of the population of the United States are men of military age. At that rate, there are 100 men of that age in Maud, although there are 126 in the guard.

Two companies of the guard are stationed here. They are G company, 175th Infantry, and the 45th division military police company. G company has three officers and 69 enlisted men; the military police company two officers and 52 men. Another guard officer here is Captain R. R. Culbertson, doctor.

Leads Local Vets

Robert S. Kerr

Now that the state veterans are decamped on Ada for three days of pleasure during the Oklahoma Departmental Legion convention, Bob Kerr, leader of the local legionnaires, may think the culmination of weeks of arduous labor is preparing for the concentration of legionnaires at Ada.

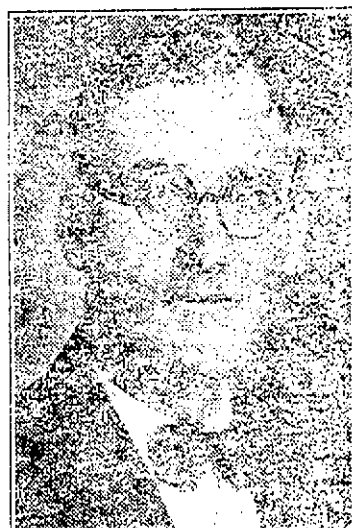

Kerr has established an inviolable record as post commander in that capacity with the Norman Howard post of Ada. He took over the reins at a time when the post was heavily in debt and his succeeding in directing a retrenchment move to place the post on a firm financial basis. Practically all of the command's time during the past month has been devoted to preparation for the state convention, which is now in its initial state. Members of the local post are becoming Kerr for state commander in 1925 but the policies of the post in adhering to a strict hands-off policy in the elective machine of the convention this year will be followed out, while the veterans are in Ada.

CHICKASHA LIONS WILL COME TO AID HATCHER

CHICKASHA, July 26 (Special)—

The Chickasha Lions club will not
hold its regular meeting next Monday, but the members are expected
to join the Chickasha caravan to
Ada to boost for Jim Hatcher, Lion
president, for state commander of the American Legion, according to
J. W. Kayser, vice-president acting
during Hatcher's absence today.

"The regular semi-monthly meeting of the club, scheduled for next Monday, will be dispensed with,"
said Mr. Kayser. "All Lions will be expected to join the Chickasha-Hat-
cher booster trip leaving here Sunday morning, spending the night
at Sulphur and continuing on to
Ada Monday morning."

"Jim Hatcher is our president, he
is running a mighty strong race for state commander of the Legion and
I feel that every Chickasha Lion
should be in Ada on Monday. Therefore I am taking the liberty of calling the meeting off and urge that
all Chickasha Lions join to put
Hatcher across."

GOSLAR, Germany.—Inhabitants of the beautiful Harz region are accustomed to seeing tourists in all sorts of exotic garb, but they think it's going a bit too far when hikers now come through clad in nothing but bathing trunks and the inevitable knapsack. Numerous complaints have reached the Harz police demanding that this nuisance be stopped.

Senator Feagway was at one time a newspaper man and has always been a familiar figure at meetings of the state press association and is deservedly popular with the fraternity. Trapp but the supreme court deemed his application for a writ of mandamus compelling the secretary of the state election board to place his name on the ballot.

Memorial Hall for Deceased Heroes of War

Pilgrimage veterans to the state convention here will be permitted to visit Norman Howard post's "Hall of Memory" where each martyr in the World War from Pontotoc county has a permanent niche as a tribute of respect from living buddies of the post.

Pictures and histories of World War veterans from this county have been dug up from hallowed interments with war mothers and budgies from this county and have been resurrected in the permanent and railway dedicated by the local legion post.

While the "Hall of Memory" is as yet incomplete, each passing day sheds its true and heroic chapter in the lives of Pontotoc county's dead of war and members of the legion here hope to obtain all information possible concerning their buddies of the native soil, now transplanted in the soil of France.

Those responsible for the progress already made in collecting pictures and data concerning Pontotoc county's war dead, emphasize the importance of the work as seen by the public. They declare that much favorable opinion has been aroused over this simple debt of tribute to its comrades who did not return and progress has been more rapid, because of the whole-hearted co-operation of people living in the communities where the veterans formerly lived.

There are 400 cities on this globe whose population exceeds 100,000. Of these 202 are in Europe and their average population is 300,000.

In Europe alone the proportion of persons living in large cities is even greater than for the whole world, for every seventh person on European soil lives in a city of 100,000 inhabitants or more.

Now that peace again reigns, "OK" Cement is still "carrying on" all over the Great Southwest. WOODWARD MAKES QUICK TRIP HERE

National President of Young Democrats Visits Here for Few Hours.

Guy Woodward, president of the Young Democratic clubs of the United States, was in the city Saturday on a flying visit to his parents, L. H. Woodward and wife.

Oklahoma is the pioneer state of the Union in this movement, the idea having originated at the state university some 10 or 12 years ago with Judge Orel Busby of Ada the first president.

Last spring Guy Woodward was elected president at the state convention at Sulphur. About that time it was decided to extend the scope of the organization and he was made the president with headquarters at Washington. When he took up his duties, New York was the only other state with a similar organization. Guy states that fifteen states and the District of Columbia are now in line. These are Tennessee, Kentucky, Indiana, Florida, Illinois, Texas, Arkansas, California, Massachusetts, Nebraska, and Missouri. The plans are to extend the work into all other states of the nation.

Guy attended the national convention at New York and was invited to deliver an address on the work.

As its name implies, the organization is made up of the young men and women of the party. Young Democrats from the ages of 21 to 35 are eligible to membership. The main object is to get out the full vote of the party, especially among the younger ones who may be inclined to pass up their privilege. President Woodward states that in the election of 1920 only 17 out of every 100 registered between the ages included in the membership voted. This time it is hoped to improve the record.

He stated that the national headquarters will remain in Washington and branches will be established at New York, Chicago, St. Louis and San Francisco.

No Extra Cops for Convention

No extra policemen will be drafted into service by the city for the Oklahoma Departmental Legion convention on Sunday, Monday and Tuesday.

Mayor Homer Jones stated Saturday that no special effort would be extended to curb the filthiness of the delegates to the convention but on the other hand the city would be left to the discretion of the visitors and upon their principles of behavior.

Mayor Jones, however, has been promised the aid of the local legionnaires in routing any over-stepping of the city's ideal of law abiding relations.

The county department also announces that no special officers have been sworn in for the period of the convention.

Bank Commissioner Sued by Girl in Telephone Office

(By the Associated Press)
OKLAHOMA CITY, July 26.—Damages of $25,000 were sought in a court action instituted here today by Miss Jennie Barnett, telephone operator at Mustang, against O. B. Motherhead, acting state bank commissioner and J. W. Shofer of Mustang.

Miss Barnett alleged that Shofer came into her office at Mustang and accused her falsely of repeating a telephone message between Mustang and Oklahoma City. She said she lost her position as a result and charged that the accusation was a reflection on her honor.

FARMER KILLED BY HIS NEIGHBOR FOLLOWING ROW

LAWTON, Okla., July 26.—J. M. McWatters, 40, a farmer residing near Temple, south of this city, was shot and killed late last night by Elmer Wommack, a neighbor, following an alleged dispute over the removal of wood from tracts which McWatters had rented.

Wommack surrendered to Cotton County officials, immediately after the shooting and is held in jail here in connection with the affair.

REVENUE BUREAU PROHIBITS PUT OFF THEIR INQUIRY

(By the Associated Press)
WASHINGTON, July 26.—A meeting today of the senate committee organized to investigate the internal revenue bureau, resulted in the formal resignation of Senator Watson, Republican, Indiana as its chairman and the election of Senator Cavanaugh, Republican, Michigan, and decided to resume the inquiry September 2.

ADA BANKS CLOSED ONLY IN AFTERNOONS

Wheat Prices Advanced

OKLAHOMA CITY, July 26.—Wagon wheat prices were advanced today at noon to $1.05 for No. 1 grade and $1.02 for No. 2 grade. The prices represented an increase of 3 cents a bushel over yesterday.

OIL NEWS

The Lloyd well in section 6-3-7, three miles southeast of Ada, is drilling at 2086 feet. Considerable trouble has been experienced with cavings.

This company will probably, in the near future, begin the drilling of several wells, going only to the 1200-foot sand. This sand will produce around 50 barrels a day of 33 gravity oil. With pipe line facilities or even with shipping facilities like it has now, these wells should produce big wealth.

C. J. Wrightman is underreaming at 1390 at Center, section 24-4-4.

The Goldline Company is drilling at 80 feet west of 1101, just across the line in Garvin county.

The Empire well in section 4-2-7 is drilling at 2585 feet.

Galloway and others are drilling at 955 feet in section 15-3-6, just south of town. The oil sand should be encountered around 1100 feet.

Bowles and others in section 34-5-6 are planning to run the rods and put a packer in their well. With the pumps it is making approximately 50 barrels a day. On account of the gas, they figure it will make more oil by flowing than it will by pumping. Thus the flowing process is to be tried out.

It is understood that preparations for the pipeline across the county are going forward, though nothing official has been announced by the company. The first back next week, at which time, an announcement is expected. The company bought a 40 acre tract near Francis on which a pump station is to be installed and ten or twelve residences to be erected.

SATURDAY RALLY DAY FOR CLUBS

Most of Clubs in County are Represented at Meeting.

Saturday was rally day for the boys and girls clubs of Pontotoc county. Most of the clubs of the county were represented by one or more members, Vanoss having two buss loads. The young folks, some of them accompanied by their parents began arriving early with well filled baskets and boxes of all kinds of good things to eat and after an hour or two of getting acquainted, the crowd adjourned to the basement of the convention hall where a bountiful dinner had been spread.

After the eating was over the crowd went to the auditorium where a short program was rendered. Following this a photograph was made of the crowd which was assembled on the steps of the convention hall.

The club membership of the county is about 600 and counting the parents, the crowd attending the rally here was not less than 800.

Prof. Pratt of A. and M. college, head of the club work of the state and who during his term of service at East Central took a great deal of interest in the work of this county, and did much to help organize clubs, was present and took part in the program.

you said Nathan suggested that he would plead guilty before a "friendly judge" was a fabrication concocted with authorities to intimidate the court?" asked Darrow.

"It is not," Gortland declared. After an hour of cross-examination Gortland was temporarily withdrawn from the witness stand and ordered not to converse with anyone in the court room while Jacob Weinstein, general manager of an optical establishment was called by the state to identify the glasses found near the railroad culvert which yielded Franks' body.

The sudden switching of witnesses was agreed upon by counsel as an accommodation to Mr. Weinstein who was waiting in the witness room.

Weinstein identified the glasses presented by the state as corresponding exactly to the spectacles called for on a "job envelope" and which bore the name of Nathan Leopold Jr.

CARS ENLISTED IN FREE TAXI CORPS

Over Hundred Cars Listed to Conduct Veterans About Ada

Over one hundred cars have been enlisted in the Ada Transportation Corps for Service during the Oklahoma Departmental Legion Convention here today, Monday and Tuesday, Claude McLean, in charge, stated.

While this number of cars is considered a great asset toward the free taxi services to be rendered war time visitors here during the convention, McLean stated that he would not abandon his enlistment campaign but would seek to enlist every motorist in Ada in the program of entertaining state veterans.

The bulk of attention in transportation needs for the Convention will be directed toward the Auxiliary division of the convence, more attention being directed toward motoring women to and from the Methodist church where the Auxiliary sessions will be in full swing.

Free rides from trains to the Convention Hall will be a vital cog in the transportation corps program. McLean is especially anxious that a sufficient number of cars be on hand at depots on the arrival of all trains in order that no veteran or Auxiliary delegate need walk to the Convention Hall for registration.

The Transportation Corps will also be in service during the rodeo, which will be held at the ball park. An effort will be made to secure cars for all veterans to the park for the rodeo on both days and for the baseball games during the three days of the Convention.

McLean appeals to personal interest of car owners in conducting private country drives Sunday evening for visiting delegates.

"Ask Me" Gets Vets in Hot Water Corps

Local Legionnaires wearing the button bearing the above legend have supplied all manner of information today, both useful and amusing. They have directed strangers to places of business; they were unable to locate in the Saturday shopping throng; they have been forced to express opinions on local favor of various political candidates; they have been asked about the weather, bobbed hair, who won the war, why is a cow, road conditions, where is the booze, and all manner of quizzes put to them both in fun and in earnest have been good naturedly answered to the best of their ability.

A member of the local post was strutting his button down the platform of a local railway station when he was accosted by an old gentleman. The conversation was as follows:

"I see you live here."
"Yes."
"Know many people?"
"Quite a few."
"Know a feller by the name of Lou Haskins?"
"No, I don't believe I do."
"Well, yer button says, 'ask me, I know an' you say you don't know him.'"
"I'm sorry, sir, but I don't know the gentleman you seek."
"Funny thing you'd be wearin' a button with that on it."
"What does Mr. Haskins look like? Maybe I could recognize him from your description."
"I don't know him neither; never seen him in my life; never heard of him till a few minutes ago. They wuz a woman an' two little children got off uv th' train there that's come t' see him an' they is th' ones that wants him. When I seen your button I wuz sure you could find him fer 'em."

At the meeting Friday night a resolution presented by C. V. Gowing and sanctioned by the club extended a vote of thanks and confidence to A. W. Parker for his valuable services in working for the Ada Temple. Parker was specifically mentioned in the resolution as being the most valuable Shriner in laboring for the temple and help in boosting Ada.

Members of the Pontotoc County Shrine Club will revel in a picnic and barbecue early next month, according to present plans of the club.

Every Shriner in Pontotoc county is invited to attend and to bring his wife to the initial escapade of their fiscal year.

According to present plans, the event will be one of momentous proportions and will include a day of solid pleasure for those who attend.

The picnic and barbecue is intended as an early opener for plans of sending a delegation to Los Angeles to again petition for the designation of a Shrine temple at Ada. Proceeds of the entertainment next month will go toward boosting the claim of Ada for a temple.

The following committee was named at a meeting Friday night for the Shrine picnic: Arrangements—H. B. Willick, Harry Scheinberg, Claude Fisher, Claude McLean.

Eats—A. W. Parker, Allen Stanfield, Joe Cole, Jim Couch, Mrs. M. F. Manville, who will head the wives of the Shriners in the preparations.

Terrorized by Run Runners. (By the Associated Press) EVERETT, Wash., July 26.—Boats smuggling liquor from Canada into the United States have put Camano Island in terror. This island, 15 miles long, is in the direct route from Vancouver, B. C., to Seattle. Some people living on the island reported the movements of run runners, said the sheriff of Island county, Washington, but the flying of so many bullets led these folks to adopt silence.

War Clouds

By Herta Vobson, correspondent from the Ada Sector.

G. H. Q. —OKLAHOMA CITY —The staff of the Oklahoma personnel left the local dugout with ample rations for the concentration on the Ada sector, taking all the division dope with them for an extended stay in the Ada sector.

SULPHUR TRENCHES —The Chickasha contingent opened "can ned Willie" and Salmon here while on the march to the Ada sector, where they have been promised solid rations of beans, soda water and strong drink. Lowly privates shed their undies for cooie inspection but to the surprise of the inspecting officers, "Hatcher for Commander" flees were found in abundance but were permitted to continue scratching owing to their native breed.

HUGO LINES —The Choctaw county corn club, shock troops from the lofty peaks of the Kiamichi, were reported on move to the Ada sector heavily armed. Canteen inspection revealed that all were well filled with finest from the Kiamichi hills.

ARMORE WAR ZONE —A private in the Ardmore troop caused a near mutiny among local forces when he sought exemption from active duty in the drive on Ada. Although he pleaded that his mother-in-law has passed beyond officers in charge refused to take him seriously.

PAWHUSKA FRONTIER —Boarding a special train of side-door palminers while the folks at home cheered 'em on with the post-ay-them. "Okey come to the Osage," veterans from this sector started for Ada. Officers in charge have been requested to the G. H. Q. at Ada for further information, on the report about a "spring in every cellar." General Nuisance of this sector was quoted as believing the reference to concern drinking facilities at the Pawhuska frontier.

LEWIS AND ARCHIE COOPER NOW READY

Headliners for Legion Battle Waiting for Gong Wednesday Night.

A full program of headliner fights will be staged for the satisfaction of state veterans who attend the Oklahoma Departmental Legion Convention, according to present plans of promoters of the light card for Monday night at the Convention Hall.

Archie Cooper, Oklahoma middleweight, has been limbering to a merry pace during the past week and is now in tip-top shape for his entrance into the ring to oppose Red Lewis of Wichita Falls.

Cooper's training era practically closed Saturday afternoon when he worked out before a large gathering of fans. Cooper has been hitting the paces for the past week and his increase in agility and speed is considered nothing less of marvelous to those who have watched him before he stepped into the Oklahoma City arena.

Despite Cooper's favorable exhibitions, Red Lewis, the Wichita Falls slugger, surprised fans with his speed and tremendous punching ability. Lewis has been working out since his arrival here early in the week.

Sponsors of the legion bout declare that ticket sales have surpassed all previous records, requests for ringside reservations coming in from parts of this section of the state. Durant, Wapanucka, Holdenville, Sulphur and other towns in this section of the state are represented.

Besides the ringside, reservations will be made for the first rows of the balcony, which are considered reliable locations, especially for ladies who expect to attend the match.

A competent list of preliminaries has been secured to precede the opening bout between Cooper and Lewis, which will last ten rounds. The following preliminaries have been announced: Roy Young vs. Speedy Williams, four rounds; R.T. Shirley vs. Leiber Streeter, four rounds; Rufus Norris vs. Pittman Scotts (colored), four rounds; Claude Sparks vs. Dutch Stone, four rounds.

A three round feature boxing match between Doc and Bill, trained game chickens, will be staged on the night of the fight.

BUDDY INVITED TO USE GOLF STICK BY CLUB

Legionnaires whose hands itch to get hold of a golf club while attending the state convention will be extended the privileges of the course of the Ada Golf and Country Club, according to an announcement last night by officers of the club.

On the local course is 34 and any visitor making the course in par will be awarded the croix de Guerre with a whole orchard of palms, as local golfers have never been able to turn in a card bearing the mythical perfect score.

Mother nature is the architect of the local course, and golfers who know say that it is one of the most difficult in the state. All the hazards are natural, and the path from tee to green is indeed straight and narrow. The golfer that does not find himself in trouble at some time on the round is indeed in championship class.

Farmers' Column

By Mrs. K. K. K.

Fighting Grasshoppers

After years of experimenting on methods of combating the festive grasshoppers which from time to time have made their appearance in the western states, inventors and experts of the department of agriculture have met with practical failure, since the pests have continued their depredations, but it remained for a Canadian county farmer to work out a plan which is really effective in riding the fields of the voracious insects.

A Ford car with a hopper arrangement attached on one side is the secret which is enabling the farmers in the infested vicinity west of Union City to rid their alfalfa fields of the long-legged pests. Driving the car at a speed of 20 miles an hour through the alfalfa, the grasshoppers roll into the trap as they are being shovelled in and in a minute's time is all that is required to fill the hopper, which has a capacity of about two bushels. A vat of boiling water is kept handy and the hoppers are baptised in this following each collection.

To Leo Kilker, farmer living four and one-half miles west of Union, goes the bulk of the honor for perfecting the device, although several of the farmers of the neighborhood have assisted him in the experiments. The Kilker farm is in the midst of the tract where the depredations of the hoppers have fallen the heaviest. Many different plans of destruction were employed, poisoning, using a crude oil and kerosene mixture and finally the construction of a hopper containing a vat which was dragged through the field by a team. The grasshoppers were supposed to fly into the hopper and fall into the vat of poisonous mixture, but the majority of them flew over or around the contrivance on account of the slow manner in which it was propelled.

The idea of using an auto was then hit upon in order that the added speed would catch the pests before they had time to fly out of the way. The perfected device now in use consists of a hopper about ten feet long with a in base and screen wire top. On the front side is a swinging door which remains open while the auto is going at full speed and is pulled shut when it slows down.

The hopper is attached to the car by two poles. One of these is used as a support to hold the leading side up a few inches off the ground while the trailing edge is allowed to drag on the ground. This fits in a socket in a block which has been bolted to the underside of the running board of the auto. The other pole extends over the back seat of the car over the hopper, and a wire connects it with the outer end of the hopper. A brace wire also extends from the outer end to the front end of the car.

Actual demonstration of the device was witnessed by the editor of The American on the Dr. Thos. Lane farm, four miles west of Union City, Monday. The farm is occupied by W. L. Reece and family and has been seriously devastated by the grasshopper hordes. The alfalfa has been almost ruined, and the corn crop, which bid fair to yield in the neighborhood of 75 bushels per acre, has been cut to about fifty per cent if its earlier prospect.

In order to get the best results from the invention the alfalfa has been cut, leaving strips at intervals about ten feet in width. The grasshoppers collect in these strips of standing alfalfa and as the car speeds along by the side of the strip, the hopper extends over it. The grasshoppers rise in clouds before the car, but instead of flying to safety are caught just as they leave the alfalfa stalks. About ten bushels of the insects were captured and killed during the few minutes the editor witnessed the demonstration.

Mr. Reece has used a great deal of poison and finds it the most satisfactory method of combating the pests in the cornfield since the auto catcher cannot work there. By poisoning and other methods he estimates that he has already killed about 100 bushels of the pests on the Lane farm, and as it has been, however, he is hopeful that by the auto method he can put an end to the depredations in his alfalfa. Mr. Kilker states that he has practically cleaned up his alfalfa fields and he is now helping his neighbors.

Mr. Kilker is undecided as yet whether he will attempt to secure a patent on the ingenious contrivance. Except possibly in strengthening the frame and lightening the entire hopper, there appears little chance of improving upon it.

One advantage of this type of grasshopper destroyer is that, unlike the use of poison, it is harmless instead of being a menace to livestock and poultry. It is possible to gather up the slain hoppers and use them for chicken feed. In some communities they are dried and used during the winter to enhance the ration of the poultry.

If the Kilker invention should come into general use on Canadian county farms it is possible that the grasshopper menace would be forever ended, instead of becoming an ominous handicap to farmers such as experienced in Kansas during the early days. El Reno American.

JAPAN PLANNING EMIGRATION MOVE

Japs Expect to Relieve Crowded Conditions Through Emigration

TOKIO.—Outlines of a new policy for relieving the pressure of population in Japan have been sketched by the Committee on Emigration and Colonization of the new Imperial Economic Council appointed two months ago by Premier Kiyoura.

The first measures suggested look toward further populating of Hokkaido, the northern island of Japan. Other measures deal with the sending of emigrants abroad. The committee's suggestions will be placed before the whole Economic Council first, and then before the cabinet for approval. The committee's report, a lengthy document, is summarized as follows:

"Japan's limited area, together with her large annual increase of population, presents a critical problem for the empire. Japan has no more important problem than to find an outlet for her surplus population. A solution must be sought at home as well as abroad. For domestic migration Hokkaido presents the greatest opportunity."

"Hokkaido now has a population of 2,400,000, but has room for more than 4,000,000. A successful policy of emigration abroad requires judicious financing. Emigrants going abroad should not be permitted to leave Japan without sufficient funds for their proper establishment in their new homes. The government should establish a special banking organ for such a purpose. To ensure a successful policy of emigration to other countries, the following suggestions should be followed:

"Special education of intending emigrants about the conditions and customs of the countries to which they intend to go; establishment of an emigrant's home; establishment of special diplomatic policies toward the countries to which emigrants are sent; emigration laws should be revised to afford better protection to emigrants; emigrants overseas should be exempted from the conscription law; emigrants after a fixed period of residence abroad should be encouraged to naturalize in the countries of their residence; a special commission on overseas emigration should be established; outlets for overseas emigration must be sought in lands where the least resistance is offered."

College Students

Twenty-eight senior students in the department of agricultural education at the Pennsylvania State College took a month of "practice teaching" in the vocational schools and departments in various parts of the state in the past year. These agricultural students are prepared to teach in the 40 rural community vocational schools and 24 vocational departments now in Pennsylvania. Ten counties in the State have agricultural vocational supervisors who do itinerant instruction in the high schools.

Twenty-nine courses for teachers of immigrants are now conducted in the schools and colleges of New York City. To induce more teachers to engage in the instruction of immigrants a substantial increase in salary is offered those who have had three years' experience and have successfully completed one of the courses now offered as special training for that work.

Light for Dark, Dark for Light, says MENABERY

Joseph Menabery, who produced the Paramount picture, "The Stranger," for Paramount, has reversed the usual order of things.

Light clothes for light scenes and dark clothes for the heavier episodes of a screen story have been accepted aids to achieving atmosphere in the past, but it remained for the Paramount director to reverse this order and achieve superior results.

Menabery substituted dark lighting relieved by light clothes in certain dramatic scenes of "The Stranger," coming to the McSwain Theatre next Monday.

At another important point in the story, the director dressed Miss Compson, the principal feminine character, in black but emphasized the atmosphere of the scene by bright, cheerful lighting. Again the contrast of her attire with the mood of the scene serves to heighten the entire effect.

Richard Dix, Lewis Stone and Tully Marshall are featured with Miss Compson in "The Stranger," which is an adaptation by Edith Bingham of John Galsworthy's "The First and the Last."

BABUYANS HAVE VOLCANO DANGERS

Primitive Tribesmen Dare Death to Hold Island Homes

(By the Associated Press)

MANILA.—The most primitive people of the entire Philippine archipelago dwell on the island of Babuyan, some 60 miles north of Luzon, according to members of Governor General Wood's party who visited that group recently. The total population of the island is 77, composed of 14 married men, the same number of married women, 20 adult unmarried women, 25 children of both sexes and four old women.

Money is unknown among the people with the exception of Baranagla Rosal, the head man, who treasures a few silver pesos as a reminder of his former life in Luzon. Rosal is priest, judge, legislator and executive all in one. He officiates at funerals, marriages and births and adjusts all tribal differences.

Dr. Pacifico Laygo, an assistant in the Philippine Health Service, who was a member of the governor general's party, landed on Babuyan Island and explored the volcano which was recently in eruption. "From the top of the mountain to the water's edge the once exuberant vegetation was burnt off and boulders, ashes and lava cover the mountain side," said Dr. Laygo. "A new crater appears to have formed from which steam is continuously rising. The advisability of transferring the inhabitants to the mainland of Luzon was discussed with the islanders, but they decided that they preferred to remain on Babuyan, although most of their corn and camote fields were destroyed by the eruption. They were terrorized by the flow of rocks, ashes and steam from the volcano but they could not be persuaded to leave, their only desire being to get to the northern end of the island where they believed they would be safe from future eruptions."

Need of common standards of civic righteousness, public health, and family life is stressed in a circular recently issued by the United States Bureau of Education entitled "Parent-Teacher Associations and Foreign-Born Women." It analyzes the problem and contains valuable suggestions for helping foreign-born women to adopt higher standards of living.

GOVERNOR BRYAN'S RECORD

The Baltimore Sun is a Democratic paper of the standpoint variety. It does not believe in progressivism but there are some things in political channels which the Sun can understand and appreciate. In a leading editorial, the Sun speaks of the nomination of Charles Bryan as the Democratic candidate for Vice-President. It says frankly that it does not like his ideas as expressed in some of his recent speeches, but then it adds that while it is not impressed with Mr. Bryan's talk, it is very much impressed with Mr. Bryan's action. The Sun then goes on to say that as governor of Nebraska, Mr. Bryan has reduced taxes thirteen per cent. He has also reduced the number of job holders in Nebraska from 610 to 272. He has cut the number of public employees more than half. The Sun declares that it is somewhat reconciled to his talk when it remembers his record as a man who does things.—Okmulgee Democrat.

Carl Magee, formerly of Oklahoma, is proving to be the stormy petrel of New Mexico politics. For the past year or more he has assailed a district judge of his state, charging him with all manner of corruption and declaring his intention of running the judge out of office. Some months ago the judge set in motion the machinery of his court and had Magee brought in to answer to a charge of contempt of court. Of course the judge found him guilty and sentenced him to a year in jail. Gov. Hinkle pardoned him and he renewed the attack. Now it has happened again and the sheriff, contending that the governor has no pardon power in such cases, refuses to release the prisoner. The case is now before the state supreme court. It is highly interesting as it is of vital importance to know just where the jurisdiction of courts ends in the matter of contempt cases. It must also be settled whether an executive can be denied his power of clemency by a court order.

The county rally of boys and girls clubs held here Saturday was an event of more than passing importance. For a number of years Mr. Hill and Mrs. Duvall have been working among the young people as well as the older ones with the result that they are very much alive to modern methods and will form a very progressive group of farmers when they launch out for themselves. The results are already being seen among the first ones who took up club work several years ago and each succeeding year will add to the number. It is indeed a fitting thing that the young folks who are interested in the same lines of work should gather occasionally and get acquainted. There is a feeling of fellowship among them that should be encouraged.

A statement from Democratic national headquarters says that the party management is depending on small contributions from the rank and file of the party with which to carry on the campaign. The Republicans can always levy an assessment against the protected manufacturers and other big interests but the Democrats have few rich men in their ranks and must depend on the loyal men of small means to finance the fight. It is far from being an even match but that is the only hope of the party. However, a dollar from every member of the party would provide a very nice fund to carry the gospel of Democracy to the people.

Indications are that a big vote will be polled in this county in the coming primary. Two years ago more than 6,000 votes were cast and this time the chances are that the number will run above 7,000, probably 7,500. If other counties turn out as full a vote in proportion to their voting strength the voice of the entire citizenship will indeed be heard.

Most faults bring about their own punishment. For instance, the man who has a grudge against the world and grouches about everything with which he comes in contact is paid back in his own coin. The world loves him no more than he loves others.

La Follette and Wheeler did not wait to be notified of their nomination to open their campaign. They were already primed for action and are already shelling the woods. However, the real fireworks will open in two or three weeks when Coolidge and Davis learn officially that they are the nominees of their respective parties.

Ardmore long ago lost her position as the hotbed for candidates for state offices and now Tulsa appears to be aspiring to that distinction.

A GREAT DECISION.

Throughout his life on this planet man's inner consciousness is a field of conflict. Good and evil are constantly striving for the mastery and the issue is often uncertain. At times one predominates and at others the opposite influence prevails. To finally overcome the evil means the constant exercise of will power and often an appeal for divine aid in meeting the temptations that beset one's soul.

The experience of Christ in the wilderness after his baptism was in keeping with the experience of all mankind. For 40 days and nights he meditated and grappled with the problem of his ministry upon which he was to enter. There is room for endless speculation on the subject of his temptations and with this side of the question we do not feel able to deal. It is with Jesus the man whose temptations we shall discuss. Whether or not he could have fallen or whether he would have lost his sonship had he yielded are questions too deep for the writer.

Man's first thought is the preservation of his life. Many are so thoroughly convinced that the world owes them a living that they never pause to consider the means employed in order to gain this end. Hence, when he hungered and saw about him stones that in shape and color resembled the flat cakes common in that country, what was more natural for Jesus to consider than to use the power he now felt that he possessed and turn the stones into bread and satisfy his consuming hunger? However, he turned away from this with the abiding faith that God would provide for his wants at the proper time.

Then came the next problem, that of how he should approach the people in proclaiming his mission. It is human nature to be attracted by the spectacular, hence by throwing himself from a high pinnacle of the temple in the presence of the multitude and reach the ground unhurt would certainly be a sign that would impress them with his power and perhaps be a short cut to the end he had in view. The same temptation was again presented when he hung upon the cross and the mocking spectators challenged him to come down from the cross and they would believe. No doubt some of them would. However, the realization that this was not God's plan overcame this temptation and he again triumphed.

The third temptation was the supreme test. He might have established a temporal kingdom with the idea of eventually bringing the people to believe in his mission and set up such a kingdom as they expected with himself as both the temporal and spiritual ruler. Mahomet started his mission along the lines followed by Christ but not finding a ready response and nothing but hardship and persecution he changed his policy. His people loved fighting and by appealing to this instinct and infusing the belief that they were fighting for God, his success was immediate. Millions flocked to his standard and embraced his new religion which was along lines they understood and in accord with their nature. He established a great empire and his influence yet lives but it has proved a blight wherever it has penetrated. It is not impossible that Christ could have succeeded as did Mahomet but his kingdom was to be entirely spiritual and he put away the vision of glory and power which he might have had by appealing to the baser instincts of mankind. However, this temptation was also presented again when at the height of his popularity the multitudes sought to crown him their king.

A reading of the lesson will reveal how even the devil can quote scripture when it suits his purpose, but it will also be noted that Jesus had a stronger quotation to meet each one advanced by the tempter.

At length the die was cast. His mission would begin with the humble fishermen of Galilee, the element of citizenship with whom he had been associated from his youth and it would not deal with the temporal affairs of life. His way would be difficult in the extreme and his life would be one of hardship and he would have no place to lay his head but it was to the lost sheep of Israel he had been sent and he was obedient to his call.

Having come forth triumphant from his ordeal he was ministered to by angels and was at length ready to proclaim his mission and launch a movement that would last through eternity. He no longer doubted his call and his relation to God and in the full vigor of his manhood he was ready to go forth against the powers of evil that had all but extinguished the fire of truth. He would again light the torch and draw mankind to him as the light of the world.

Under the division of the federal court district as made by a circuit judge, the Ada court will be presided over by Judge Kennemer who will make his headquarters at Tulsa. No date has been set for the first session of the court here, so far as the News has been advised.

No matter how the election goes or who is elected Ada will not get a fractional part of the benefit that would come from a factory of some sort utilizing some of the natural resources of Pontotoc county and turning loose a nice pay roll every month.

One of the thirteen Democratic candidates for corporation commissioner has withdrawn from the race. Perhaps he thought 13 an unlucky number and was willing to sacrifice himself for the others. Eleven others will consider 12 an unlucky number when the votes have been counted.

Already the former service men are arriving and The News Welcomes one and all. It is to be hoped that they will enjoy their stay in our city and it is certain that they will be extended the glad hand on all sides. Ada belongs to them while they are here.

Real honest to goodness thinking is very hard work and it is human nature to avoid hard work when it is possible, hence the narrow confines of the thinking done by the average person who too often permits others to think for him.

So far as we have noted Comanche county is the first to organize a Davis-for-President club. It is time that other counties were getting busy for that is the big issue of the campaign.

The National Guard and What It Means

(Ardmoreite)
What is the National Guard? It is Organized Militia. An armed and equipped military organization of men who have volunteered to serve the country as soldiers. The bulwark of the country's first line of defense.

What is it good for? That depends upon its training and efficiency. It is untrained, undisciplined and unreliable, it is good for nothing. When trained and efficient it has proved it is a force on which the country can rely, with the army, for the defense of our lives, liberty and prosperity.

What is being done toward efficiency?

Men are enlisted after thorough medical examination; regularly drilled in the duties of a soldier; taught the use of fire-arms; to obey orders; to take care of their health by proper hygiene and sanitary rules, and to develop their bodies physically.

What is gained by the individual through this training?

Every man who carries out his military duties conscientiously is improved mentally, morally and physically. If he shows capacity he becomes a leader and learns to handle men. He learns the value of organization and system.

What is gained by the country?

First, a military organization which can be relied upon, at small cost to the taxpayer; second, the added value of a man who brings into civil life the lessons of organization, work systemized and discipline, acquired by military training.

LEGION AUXILIARY CLAIMS SUCCESS OF POPPY SALE

One of the successful ventures of the Ada Legion Auxiliary in assisting the program of the Norman Howard post was performed Memorial Day, when the local unit took charge of the poppy sale and carried it to a successful close.

Members of the Auxiliary were given complete charge of the sale of the poppies and few escaped from their methods of salesmanship.

What can be done by the people at large to promote the efficiency of the National Guard?

1. To give the organization your moral support.

2. Encourage your young men to enlist and to do their full duty if they do.

3. Give the man who serves faithfully credit for a public duty well done.

4. Let the man know that a dishonorable discharge marks him as a man who has violated an oath and who can not be trusted.

5. Make it possible—even easy—for a man to attend camp, fire his score on the range, and drill one night a week.

6. Give him this time without loss of pay.

7. Those who do no military duty themselves may experience the feeling of doing a public duty if they put a young man in the ranks and make it possible for him to serve there.

Suppose there had not been a National Guard in 1917?

WOMEN OF PROMINENCE ARE EXPECTED AT CONVENTION

Members of the Ada Legion Auxiliary are expecting a number of state women prominent in Oklahoma Departmental legion affairs. Plans are under way to pay due recognition to prominent in the auxiliary convention here, despite the fact that every delegate will receive a glad embrace from Ada members.

ruined

Many a first impression has been ruined by some seemingly little thing

It pays in life to be able to make people like you. And so often it is some seemingly very little thing that may hold you back.

For example, if a person's teeth are unclean, you will automatically hold this against him. And all the while this same analysis is being made of you.

Listerine Tooth Paste cleans teeth a new way. At last our dentists have discovered a delicate procedure that really cleans without scratching the enamel—a difficult problem finally solved.

A large tube of Listerine Tooth Paste is only 25 cents, at your drug store.—Lambert Pharmacal Co., Saint Louis, U. S. A.

Still Carrying On

Paul Revere roused a neighborhood in staid New England to defend its rights against the march of the invading force. The spirit of this early hero so swept the Colonies that a new Nation was formed, designed to be far greater than even men could dream.

Through more than a century and a half the story of Paul Revere has been told to tots on the knees of the fathers of the land. Little do they dream that they sow a mental seed that "carries on" into the future those ideals that have made the United States.

To you who heard in 1917 that echo from Old North Church tower you have but "carried on." This time, you saved the world. Across the sea are grateful hearts because you came in time of greatest need. You've told the world that AMERICA ALWAYS "CARRIES ON."

The Fourth Congressional District Should Return Tom D. McKeown to Congress

Because—

- 1—He is honest, industrious and always on the job.
- 2—He has had six years experience in the House, and is a member of many important committees. It would take a successor years to reach the same place the Ada solon now occupies in our national law making body.
- 3—He is a friend of all the people, working for the good of all. He is a Democrat and believes that an official should do all he can to maintain party harmony.
- 4—He has obtained more for his district than any other Oklahoma congressman has obtained for his in the same time. He will do more, as his influence is greater, when he goes back.
- 5—He has stood by the farmers and has introduced and pushed legislation in their favor.
- 6—The moneyed interests of Wall Street and the big oil monopolies are against him because he is for the common folks.

These seekers after governmental privilege are using every method they can to defeat him. Will you help them further their plans or will you vote for your own interest?

- 7—He has fought harder and more consistently and persistently than any member of Congress for the ex-Service men. He introduced and pushed through the provision giving service men one cent a mile railroad fare while on furloughs. He got through the $60 extra pay when the men were mustered out. He has advocated adjusted compensation and voted for every compensation measure ever brought to the floor of the House.
- 8—Tom McKeown has been our friend, working for us, making little noise and getting big results. Will you turn him down and experiment with untried hands? Your answer will be given August 5. What will it be?

It is interesting to know that the "Bristow Record", a paper in the oil fields, which no doubt depends to some extent on the patronage of the oil fraternity for business, takes a slap at the fact that Hon. Tom D. McKeown is a member of the Committee on Merchant Marine and Fisheries. Yet, it was due to his membership and influence on this Committee that the independent oil refineries of the Mid-Continent field were saved from utter destruction when it was proposed by the Shipping Board to put in effect Section 28 of the Merchant Act of 1920.

Is it true when it is stated that the oil fraternity has no appreciation of honest effort of an honest official?

Who was appealed to in the hour of distress by the representatives of the oil refineries of the Mid-Continent field when this calamity was about to fall upon them? It was Hon. Tom D. McKeown, and if the independent refineries will look in their files they will find a letter from their representative in Washington telling of the real fight that Tom D. McKeown made and the victory he won for them.

It comes in poor taste for a newspaper like the Bristow Record to make such ironical comments on this great Committee which has more to do with the future prosperity of the oil industry in the Mid-Continent field than almost any Committee in Congress.

CHINA WELL VERSED IN AMERICAN SLANG

(By the Associated Press)

WUHAN, China.—A nationwide athletic meet has just been held here which had all the characteristics of a similar meet in any college town in America. The manner in which the athletes went at their jobs, and the comments on their performance, were essentially American.

Cries of "Come on boys, you can beat him!" "Shoot, shoot!" "Stick to it, wipe the butter off your fingers!" and others of a similar nature were frequently heard from the spectators' benches and from the roosters on the side lines. Real sportsmanship was in evidence for the most part, and there was little or no playing that was unnecessarily rough.

There were baseball, soccer, volleyball, tennis and basketball in addition to the field sports, and a detachment of Boy Scouts, who had their own encampment and lived in tents during the three days of the meet. The Scouts equipped a first aid tent and a field telephone which was employed in reporting results from various parts of the grounds.

The girls' basketball and volleyball games, being a decided innovation in North China, attracted many spectators and elicited much favorable comment.

It was estimated that more than 15,000 persons were present.

The National Colonial Archives in Seville, Spain, contains original documents relating to the early history of Texas and other Spanish colonies of North America, according to an official report of Frederick C. Chabot, chargé d'affaires ad interim, to the Department of State. This provides a fertile field for historical research work.

Americans Donate Washington Relics to Sulgrave Manor

LONDON, July 25.—When the delegates to the American Bar Association's Convention visited Sulgrave Manor today they presented several valuable relics of George Washington to the Manor House. These include a saddle bag and a liquor chest used by Washington in the Revolutionary War, given by Colonel Walter Scott of New York; a parchment deed dated March 4, 1606, by which the Sulgrave property of the Washingtons was transferred to their relatives, the Makepieces, and a coffin handle from the first coffin in which Washington was buried, the gifts of Joseph O. Butler, Jr., of Youngstown, Ohio.

The New York branch of the Daughters of the American Revolution gave a silk flag of the Sulgrave Institution of America at the same time.

An original Washington letter which displays the keen business instinct of the first president and which was recently purchased by Sir Charles Wakefield, was given by him as the British gift to the Manor. The letter, which is dated from Mount Vernon, June 28, 1788, is understood to have been in England many years and never to have been published. It reads as follows: "Dear Sir:

"When Mrs. Washington was at the Church at Fredericksburg she perceived the Tomb of her father, the late John Dandridge, Esq., in a ruinous condition, and being desirous of having it done up again, will you permit me, my dear Sir, to request the favor of you to engage a workman to do this. The cost I will remit as soon as it is known, and you shall inform me of the execution."

"I will thank you for ascertaining the price beforehand, having, from disinclination to dispute accounts, felt, in too many instances, the expansion of Tradesmen's consciences, when no previous agreement has been made."

"My best wishes, in which Mrs. Washington joins me, are tendered to Mrs. Carter."

"With much truth,

"I am Dear Sir,

"G. WASHINGTON."

REVISION OF CODE REPORT READY SOON

OKLAHOMA CITY, July 26 (Special).—Oklahoma's tax code revision commission created by the 1923 legislature soon will make a report of its survey of the revenue and taxation system to Governor Trapp. The commission was empowered to draft legislation which it deemed necessary to place the taxation system on a more efficient basis. The 1923 legislature directed that this report and proposed legislation be completed in time for the 1925 session.

Study Other States. In its study of taxation problems, Examiner Parkinson and Assistant Attorney General King, members of the commission, gave close attention to systems in New York, Pennsylvania and New Jersey.

Among the vital changes in the present law which will be recommended is a new tax resale law to make the title of resale property more fixed and certain, thus giving the property a better resale value.

Taxing Changes, Too. Improvements on the system of taxing public service corporations also will be recommended and revision of the inheritance tax law so that property outside of Oklahoma shall be taxed only where that property is located in the state.

Under the present law when an Oklahoma property owner dies all his property, not only that in the state, but in any other state where he has holdings, is taxed. Since that property outside of Oklahoma is taxed by other states, for Oklahoma also to levy a tax is deemed excessive by the commission.

The government of Brazil has consented to the laying of telegraph cables from Rio de Janeiro to Rome and to Montevideo in connection with an Italian concession.

Gas for Cuban Soldiers

HAVANA, July 25.—Orders have been approved for the Cuban army to receive instruction in gas attacks especially in the use of tear gas, according to an announcement made by the secretary of war. The use of this gas would be valuable not only in case of revolutionary disorders, but also in breaking up possible riots during strikes.

Guard Units and American Legion Closely Linked

The Ada units of the Oklahoma National Guard and the Norman Howard post, American Legion, hosts for the state legion convention here in July, have much in common.

Owing to the close fraternal feeling of the present military organizations of Ada and the former ex-service men, the two have profited much in the past few years.

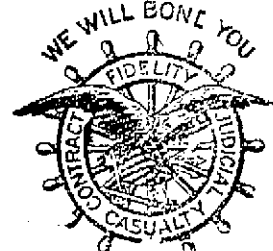

The guard units and legion post are further united through the fact that the ranking guard officers of Ada, Colonel Byron Sledge, Major Lowery H. Harrell, Captains Robert S. Kerr and Roy Adair and Lieutenants Elbert Reed, Herbert Felix and Whit Fetter are prominent in legion affairs.

The guard units, especially the band has assisted in many legion endeavors.

If all the eggs of a single codfish were hatched into fish, which should in turn hatch all of their eggs, in a very few years the whole earth would be buried under many feet of codfish.

PEDESTRIANS AND DRIVERS BLAMED

Courtesy Would Aid to Shield the Public From Traffic Accidents.

By ERWIN GREER, President Greer College of Automotive Engineering, Chicago.

"Hey," yelled the motorist to the pedestrian whom he had just knocked down and run over. "Take a look at my brakes and see if they're dragging, will you?"

Sometimes overdrawn possibly, but any pedestrian will tell you that he wouldn't put it above an automobile driver to do such a thing. And the motorist, himself, would say: "Why don't those birds watch their step? Do they think that we are mind readers?" Right here is the whole situation—lack of courtesy.

Does the pedestrian thank the motorist who throws on his brakes and allows him to cross safely from curb and catch a trolley that is to get him to the train on time. Yes, we have no bananas! Does the automobile driver wave acknowledgment to the pedestrian who goes out of his way to make things easier when the car driver is trying to steer through a congested street? No, he does not! Consequently both driver and pedestrian are to blame and a little courtesy would aid them to shield the public from preventable traffic accidents.

Jay-Walker Inexcusable. But there is no excuse for the jay-walker. A large percentage of accidents in the congested shopping districts are directly traceable to the disregard of the public at cross street corners.

My advice to pedestrians is to look up and down and behind, before crossing any street. Avoid dodging in front of machines, realize that the longest line of traffic seldom takes more than thirty seconds to pass, and that it is better to lose thirty seconds than a leg. Even the habitually careless automobile driver will have trouble in handling you if you take the slight amount of care necessary to protect yourself.

Try Golden Rule. Just plumb your faith of humanity with the old Golden Rule and see how it works out. Take a chance and give the other fellow the right of way, even when it doesn't belong to him, or give him the "go-ahead" signal. It's a 100-to-1 shot that he'll grin and wave for you to go first. But the moral effect will cause him to watch out for the next driver and offer some little courtesy that will make this other chap feel good. Once such a system is started there won't be any end to it and the roads will be a wonderful place to ride on until along comes some bird who has no place to go and wants to get there in a hurry, and then it is all off. All off, unless you realize that sooner or later this bird will run up against a snag which will necessitate some extra yards of gauze and a couple of doctors. In other words, do your best to make driving safer and the law of averages will take care of the rest.

Burned Fuse in Country Is Quite Inconvenient

A burned-out fuse on one's car in the country is very inconvenient if there are no spares with which to replace it, but if the motorist will carry a little tin foil in his box of odds and ends he can make a serviceable temporary repair in a minute. As a matter of fact, any one who smokes cigarettes or chews gum or eats candy on the road usually has some tin foil on his person, and so it is not necessary to make a special point of including it with the tools.

To rehabilitate the burned fuse it is wrapped with one or two layers of the foil and reinserted in the fuse box. Care should be taken not to wrap the fuse too heavily, as if this is done damage is liable to result to the wiring if it is suddenly stressed with an overload.

Motors Move Millions

Fourteen armored motorcars, each guarded by six armed men and equipped with a machine gun capable of hurling 20 bullets a second, were used recently in New York city in transporting $200,000,000 in securities and cash from the vaults of one bank to another.

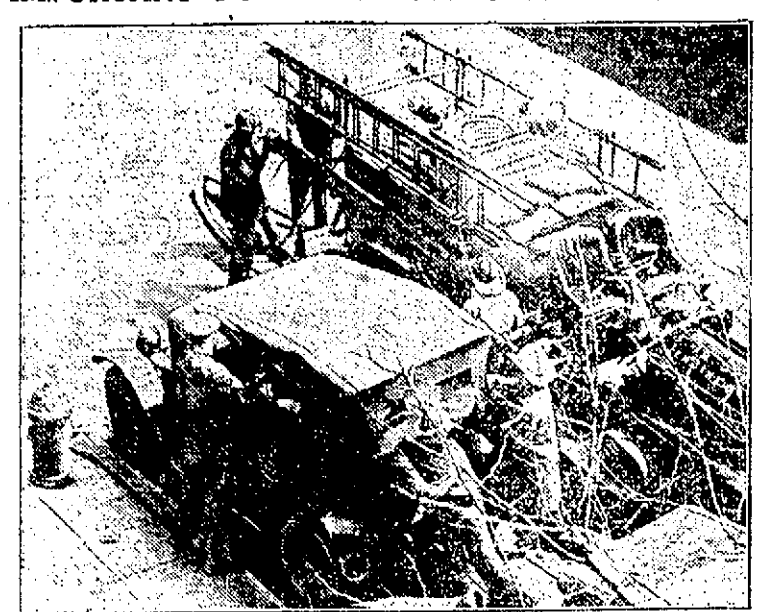

Driver Who Slouches Is Never Really at Ease

According to a writer in American Motorist, half the pleasure in motorizing comes with learning to manipulate your car with ease and grace.

"Correct form of driving," says this writer, "means minimum strain on the pocketbook. Velvety steps and starts prevent unusual strains on the motor, clutch, transmission, axles and tires. They also cut down the consumption of gasoline and oil. A well-made motor, like a Swiss watch, is a sensitive thing. It resents abuse, but responds willingly, copably, to gentle handling. Starting an automobile is an art. I believe somebody else has said that, but never mind.

"Simple though the act may be, there are plenty of drivers who never acquire the finished way of doing it. The master driver aims to create a steady pull on the driving mechanism from the moment he slips into first speed until the car is under full headway. Learn to accelerate simultaneously with letting in the clutch. The mechanical act of gear shifting can be learned in five minutes."

IMPORTANT POINT FOR MOTORISTS TO OBEY

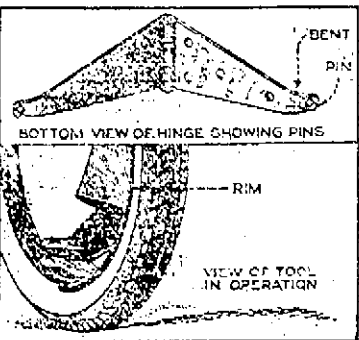

Never park a car near a fireplug or hydrant. This is one of the most important of all traffic regulations and should be observed by all motorists every where. Precious minutes are lost by the firemen in removing the car when they are called out to fight a blaze.

Nine Points to Check for Knocks of Motor

- Knocks are always annoying to the best operators. The principal causes are:
 - Lack of oil.
 - Clogged radiator.
 - Too rich a mixture.
 - Spark advanced too far.
 - Failure of fan to work properly.
 - Wrong timing of ignition system.
 - Spark too late, causing overheating.
 - Preignition, due to excessive carbon.
 - Mechanical looseness of various kinds.

Rim Spreader Made From Plain Barn-Door Hinge

A common eight-inch barn-door hinge can be used to good advantage for spreading automobile rims when changing tires. If the rims are perfectly plain, at the split it will be necessary to drill two 5-16 inch holes about 2 inches from the ends. Two pins are riveted or welded to the end of the hinge and each end is then bent as shown. The pins are inserted into the holes drilled in the rim and the hinge is pulled down with the foot, thus spreading the rim. If there are studs on the rim, the hinge can be used without pins, by simply latching the ends against the studs, notching the ends if necessary to prevent the hinge from slipping.—Frank N. Conley, Buffalo, N. Y., in Popular Mechanics Magazine.

Points for Motorist to Watch on Slippery Days

To prevent skidding, a number of points should be observed in both operation and care of a car. Before venturing out in slippery streets with a car the engine should be in smooth running order, the clutch should disengage easily and freely and engage without suddenly grabbing. The brakes should be adjusted so that they take hold sufficiently to stop the car, but will not lock the wheels except when additional pressure is exerted. They should also take hold evenly at both wheels, because if they do not a sure swerve of the machine to the side of the tightest brake will result. A car which does not have both front and rear wheels in line will not efficiently hold the road in wet weather, especially when brakes are applied. This latter trouble may be due to sprung axles, front or rear; rear axle housing out of true or a sprung frame.

Valve Cap Is Valuable to Prevent Dirt Leaks

Motorists are warned not to err by taking it for granted that it makes little difference whether a cap is used on the tire valve and when a cap is lost to proceed without one. This idea is entirely erroneous, and motorists who do not use the valve cap can expect trouble.

When the cap is not used there is every probability that sand and dirt will work down into the valve and ultimately produce it bent. While a tire remains inflated this dirt in some cases may do no harm, but when a new inflation is made the pump drives the dirt down into the valve and makes an air-tight connection almost impossible.

Noiseless Auto Bodies

Automobile bodies made from a fabric in France eliminate noises common to those manufactured from metal and can be built for only about 10 per cent the cost of metal touring cars.

In Afghanistan, all a man has to do to take a girl as his wife is to cut off a lock of her hair or throw a sheet over her.

VARIOUS FACTORS INSURE IGNITION

Of Much Importance That Points Be Kept Clean and Make Perfect Contact.

By ERWIN GREER, President Greer College of Automotive Engineering, Chicago.

There are a number of factors to be considered to insure good ignition; breaker points must be kept clean and make perfect contact; make sure that the points separate the proper distance; coil connections must be tight; test for a broken down condenser; there is considerable wear on the distributor segments, same can be cleaned with 60 sandpaper.

Do not run spark plug wires through fiber or metal tubing; cut grooves in two blocks of fiber and run wires through grooves and bolt the blocks together. This will overcome considerable ignition trouble.

Short Causes Trouble. A short in the light wiring will cause battery to discharge, and may also cause a fire. The presence of a short is indicated by a heavy discharge through the ammeter; a short is caused by a wire pinching between the frame of the car breaking the insulation; for emergency repairs use friction tape to insulate the wire from frame.

A good many arrests are being made for not having a tail light burning. The tail light should be connected in series with the dash light and then in the event that the tail light goes out the dash light will go out also. When a six-volt battery is used, dash and tail-light globes must be three to four volts each, six to eight volts on head lights; with a 12-volt battery, dash and tail lights must be six to eight volts, head lights 12 to 16 volts.

The horn must respond the minute the button is pressed. With a little attention it will respond; lubricate the bearings by removing the horn cover, clean commutator, with 60 sandpaper. To adjust horn loosen adjusting screw, turn with screw-driver and adjust to get the best possible sound. If the motor commutator is badly worn, horn should be taken off and armature must be put in a lathe to true up the commutator, new brushes and brush springs should be installed. There are times when the ignition switch key is misplaced or lost and it is absolutely impossible for the average driver to start car without the aid of a skilled electrician.

Instructions for Starting. Here are a few instructions on how to get the car started in cases where magneto ignition is used, remove magneto ground wire and the car will start without any trouble. A car equipped with battery ignition can be started by connecting a wire to the live side of the starting switch to one side of the ignition coil so that the current will go through the coil before it goes through the breaker points.

To make sure that the wire is connected to the right side of the starting switch touch the wire to the frame of the car and if a spark or short is produced the connection is O. K.

TWO FORDS REPORTED STOLEN THIS WEEK

Ford touring cars were the choice selections of auto thieves during the last days of this week, information from the sheriff's office revealed Saturday.

Two touring cars, new from the local distributing point, were scurried to the post of missing cars Thursday night and Saturday noon and were still on the missing list Saturday night while county officers continued their vigilance.

Keith Underhill, one of the promoters of the Rodeo, lost a new Ford touring car Saturday afternoon while he was eating lunch. Underhill had just purchased the car and did not know the car number and the new product was without a state license.

Earl Yates lost a Ford touring car in front of his home on East Fourteenth street, Thursday night and officers have not been able to locate the stolen car.

While officers hold suspicion of several parties believed implicated, no definite clues were available Saturday.

The two thefts this week run the total number of car thefts to a high record for the year.

BROOKS' STATEMENT

Fitzhugh, Oklahoma, July 24. To the Voters of Commissioners District No. 3:

About three months ago, I announced as a candidate for County Commissioner of District No. 3, subject to the Democratic primary, August 5. I now, through the press make a formal announcement.

The people have a right to know the position of every candidate upon various questions. I am not a member either of the Klan or anti-Klan organization and have never been. If elected, I shall be the servant of all the people, the commissioner of the entire district, standing for what I believe to be right regardless of the effect. I am opposed to special favors and special privileges which enable one man to get, without a running, what another man earns without getting. Should I be elected, I shall put forth my best efforts to serve my district. I shall never become involved in any important matters to such an extent as to neglect the requests and suggestions of the people. The people can select their own road overseers, getting people in each district to do the work as much as possible. Each school district shall get a fair and just deal.

No funding bonds will be issued during my term of office, if I can prevent it.

I have lived 16 years in Fitzhugh seven years on the farm and three years I have been in the garage business.

I am respectfully asking the support of every voter in the district and any favorable consideration in my race for Commissioner will receive thanks and appreciation.

Respectfully, BOB BROOKS (Political Advertising)
